Hold-up Charge Against Lawyer In Vancouver

C. H. Cahan, Jr., Held By Police as They Investigate Bank Robbery

In Yesterday's Raid $60 Taken

VANCOUVER (CP) — Charles H. Cahan Jr., Vancouver barrister and son of a prominent Montreal family, today was arrested by city police on a charge of bank robbery.

The charge named Cahan, son of Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State in the government of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, as the lone gunman who Wednesday held up a suburban branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here and escaped with about $60 in cash.

The arrest was made a few minutes after Cahan had been convicted of passing worthless cheques and had been remanded till next Monday for sentence. He had been under observation by city police since early this morning. In charge of the case were Staff Inspector D. McKay, Inspector G. H. Grant and Sergt. C. W. Spence.

While Cahan was on trial on the forgery charge, police took witnesses of the bank holdup into court and asked if they could see the bank robber.

WENT TO CAFE

During an adjournment of the lawyer's trial for a short interval, Detectives shadowed Cahan when he went to a nearby cafe for coffee with his counsel. They followed him into the courtroom when the trial was resumed.

During the last few minutes of the forgery trial, a warrant was sworn out. He was arrested a few minutes after his remand

Prepare to Raise Vancouver Wreck

Tugs Will Refloat Eastholm, Small Freighter Sunk in Collision During Fog

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two salvage tugs and a derrick scow today began preparations to raise the coastal freighter Eastholm from English Bay, where she sank Wednesday night after a collision with a lumber barge in a heavy fog at the entrance to Vancouver harbor.

The 174-ton freighter, owned by Frank Waterhouse and Company of Canada Limited, lay in about 75 feet of water a quarter mile off shore and a mile from where the collision occurred.

Capt. G. G. Brown, master of the Eastholm, said his vessel was groping her way out of the harbor and exchanging whistle signals with the tug Tarzan, piloting the barge.

As the freighter passed through the First Narrows the barge loomed in front of the larger vessel and the two crashed together.

The picture above was take a moment after the Duke had pressed the lever which caused the drapery to fall from the memorial.

Contests Assured For All But One School Board Seat

Wide Field Seeks Civic Election Posts; New Entry For School By-election

Contests for all civic offices, with the possible exception of one by-election seat on the school board, were assured today as the general civic election nominations closed at the City Hall.

By-election papers need not be filed until Monday afternoon at 2. However, the late entry of Robert E. Green, barrister, prominent militia officer, and returned soldier, today indicated a fight for the one-year school board seat left vacant by the resignation of Trustee Mrs. N. E. Maclaurin. Mrs. A. S. Christie is expected to contest that seat with A. C. Pike standing for election to the post left vacant by the retirement of W. C. Moresby, K.C.

When general nominations closed today there were two aspirants for the mayoralty, Mayor Andrew McGavin and former alderman, Dr. J. D Hunter.

ALDERMANIC SEATS

Seeking election to the five two-year council seats were an even dozen, including Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, T. W. Hawkins, S. H. Okell and Ed. Williams as well as W. H. Davies, Burges J. Gadsden, ex-Alderman Walter Luney, Walter Inward, Alice E. McGregor, D. D. McTavish, H. A. Morley and H. O. Simpson.

For the four two-year school board seats five candidates are making bids. They are C. R. Bishop, W. E. Staneland and John Wallace, whose terms as trustees expire at the end of this month, and W. P. Marchant and F. G. Mulliner.

By-election papers have already been filed for the one-year aldermanic post by John Kay, Alexander Peden, and James Edward Savident.

No school board by-election papers have yet been turned in although three are in the field for two vacancies.

HEAVY POLL IN LETHBRIDGE

Citizens Vote to Fill Vacancy in Legislature of Alberta

LETHBRIDGE, Alta (CP)—People of Lethbridge voted today in the by-election to fill the vacancy in the Alberta Legislature.

At 9 a.m. the polls opened and by 10 a.m. reports from all sections of the constituency reported a heavy poll. The polls will close at 7 p.m.

Supporters of both candidates, A. J. Burnap, Social Credit, and Dr. Peter M. Campbell, Unity League nominee, had urged the people to "vote early." A heavy women's vote was recorded during the first hours of balloting.

The weather was perfect, a southern Alberta chinook blowing a warm spring-like breeze from the mountains. Highways were clear of snow.

From the mining camps in the northern section of the constituency came reports of heavy voting and in the one rural poll, at West Lethbridge, a steady poll march was reported.

The by-election was made necessary by the resignation of Hans. E. Wight, Social Credit member of the legislature. In the general election of 1935, Mr. Wight was elected in a four cornered fight.

The vote in the 1935 general election was Wight, 3,700; Robert Barrowman, Liberal, 1,946; G. W. Green, Conservative, 341; Andrew Smeaton, Labor, 654. Mr. Smeaton was the former member.

The total possible vote in today's by-election is 8,888, an increase of about 500 over the number on the voters' list two years ago.

Details of New Labor Measure Made Known

Strikes Outlawed Until Conciliation Methods Fail Under New Plan

Bill Goes To House Shortly

Premier T. D. Pattullo today made public details of the government's new labor bill, which will be submitted to the British Columbia Legislature shortly. The bill, foreshadowed for weeks, is regarded as one of the most important pieces of labor legislation ever attempted in this province.

It gives both labor and employers the right to organize, and prevents strikes or lockouts before an industrial dispute has gone before a board of conciliation.

All organizations formed under the measure must register with the Department of Labor, giving full details of their organization.

The workings of the conciliation plan were outlined in the Prime Minister's statement.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE

In the event of a dispute between labor and employer, either part ymay appeal to the Minister of Labor. Within a fixed period he will then send a conciliation commissioner to the scene of the dispute to seek a settlement.

The conciliation commissioner is required, within a stated period, unless both parties agree to extend it, to advise the minister how his efforts to settle the dispute are working out.

If conciliation by the single commissioner is found impossible, both parties to the dispute are required to name an arbitrator. The arbitrators themselves must choose a chairman, but if they are unable to agree the government will appoint the third party to preside.

The dispute will then be arbitrated by this board.

After the arbitration, the award will be submitted to both parties, who may accept or reject it. The acceptance or rejection must be done by secret ballot, with supervision as provided by the law.

The bill specifies that a strike or lockout before the expiration of two weeks after the ballot takes place is illegal. After that time, of course, a strike or lockout may be called if the parties

LABOR MURDER PLOT CHARGED

Man Tells Minneapolis Meeting He Was Hired to Slay Harry Bridges

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A charge by Robert John Bell, a former Minneapolis union leader, that American Federation of Labor leaders had tried to hire him to kill Harry Bridges, leader of Pacific Coast Committee for Industrial Organization forces, was a factor in discussions of "gangsterism" in the labor movement today.

At a mass meeting Wednesday night called as an outgrowth of the slaying of Patrick J. Corcoran, A.F.L. leader, George Cole, regional director of the Committee for Industrial Organization, read an affidavit signed by Bell, detailing the alleged plot. Bell is now reported to be on the West Coast.

WENT TO SEATTLE

Bell's affidavit said he had been called into the office of a Minneapolis, A.F.L., worker and given $1,000 with instructions to go to Seattle, but did not know why he was being sent.

Arriving there, he received $10 a day for expenses, the affidavit said, and after several days was sent to Portland, where another A.F.L. leader gave him instructions.

The instructions, Bell said in his affidavit, were to "get" a C.I.O. leader named Harry Bridges. Bell said the labor leader showed him a revolver which the Minneapolis man was to use to kill the opposition union man.

Saying he "loved freedom" and "was going to stay free," Bell refused to have anything to do with the scheme, he declared.

Lloyd George Calls To Free Nations

Warns in London Speech of "Onward March" of Dictators

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George spoke his mind today in plain, blunt words. Four huge maps—Africa, the British Empire, the Far East and Europe—flanked him as he stood on the platform in Caxton Hall. Now and again, with a pointer as long as himself, he illustrated his theme.

But he was no politican turned schoolmaster. His survey of the international scene was such as no school ever saw. It was at once a bitter arraignment of the "feeble, flaccid" leadership of democracy and an appeal "to the great democratic countries of the world to stand up to protest freedom from the hand of the assassin."

DARING DICTATORS

He spoke of the onward march of resolute dictators, of democratic "quitters" blaming each other at every retreat. He told how the democracies under storm leadership had stood the supreme test in 1914.

Now for the democracies it was surrender after surrender. Autocracy had raised two or three great, resolute men, relentless, ruthless, unscrupulous, able, courageous, fearless. Democracy had fallen into limp hands, which could not seize the sword for trembling.

Municipal Polls In December

Annual Election Dates Changed in Amendments Before House

Municipal elections all over British Columbia will be held in December, instead of January, under amendments to municipal laws introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

The change will not take place until elections of December, next year. Villages and ordinary municipalities are covered. It will affect Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt in this district.

This also alters the date of the first council meetings of the year to the first Monday in January.

Another change in the Municipal Act, covering the disqualification of an elected member of the council if his firm deals with the city or municipality, provides that he will not be disqualified if he is a shareholder in a company but does not vote on any question affecting his company.

Provision is also made for licensing transient hairdressers at not more than $50 for every six months.

Mr. Gray also brought in a bill to extend from 1941 to 1945 the expiration of a tax consolidation scheme at Prince Rupert; another to set up a board of commissioners for the Vernon Sports Arena.

TAUNTON, Somersetshire, Eng. (CP-Havas)—The King, on a two-day tour of the Duchy of Cornwall, arrived here today in a pouring rain. His Majesty was cheered by thousands of youngsters and other onlookers gathered outside the building.

The King chattered briefly with Mrs. Emma Chate, 107-year-old resident of the estate.

Japanese Army In Display In Foreign Area of Shanghai

SHANGHAI (AP) — Municipal authorities received notice Thursday six battalions of Japanese troops would march through the Shanghai International Settlement Friday in a victory parade.

The parade was ordered against the advice of the Shanghai Municipal Council. The council told Japanese authorities such a demonstration at this time would be inadvisable and would tend to create dangerous incidents.

Police planned to guard the line of march of the invaders. Foreign observers, however, feared a possible hostile "incident" with armed Japanese parading through the streets of the city where nearly 3,000,000 Chinese live.

The Japanese procession is to enter the Settlement through British defence lines and proceed along such well-known streets as Nanking Road, Bubbling Well Road and the Shanghai Bund.

Government Inserts Approval Clause in Victoria's Bill For New Commission

Appointments to Victoria's police commission under the new set-up starting January 1 will be subject to the approval of the government, according to the amendment to the Municipal Act covering the change, introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

The new section provides for the choice of two aldermen to act with the mayor as police commissioners. This will replace the present system of the mayor, the police magistrate and county court judge.

Following is the text of the amendment providing for the change:

"The board of commissioners of police of the City of Victoria shall consist of the mayor, who shall ex officio be chairman of the board, and two other members of the council who shall be appointed by the council at the first meeting of the members thereof in each year and shall hold office until their successors are appointed: Provided that if any alderman so appointed shall during the term for which he was appointed cease to be a member of the council he shall be deemed to have vacated the office of commissioner of police.

"In case of the death or resignation as a commissioner of police of any alderman so appointed, the council shall within 30 days thereafter appoint some other member of the council to fill the vacancy.

"Every appointment made by the council pursuant to the section shall be subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

"In case of the illness or absence of any alderman so appointed, the council may appoint some other member of the council to act as commissioner of police during such illness or absence.

"The presence of any two members of the board shall constitute a quorum."

Said section shall come into operation on January 1, 1938.

NO COMMENT

Mayor Andrew McGavin, questioned today on the addition to the city's bill of the clause calling for approval of the council appointees on the commission by the government, declined to make any public statement.

LABOR MURDER PLOT CHARGED

SHARED IN STRIKES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harry Bridges, named in Minneapolis as the intended victim of an assassination plot, is director of the C.I.O. on the Pacific Coast, leader of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union and father of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, which combines all West Coast maritime unions.

Bridges was a leader in two protracted coastwide maritime strikes in recent years, and the target of bitter and almost continuous verbal attacks by conservative labor, business and political leaders.

After being assured the tug had not been damaged, Capt. Brown continued on his way, but 10 minutes later discovered six feet of water in his vessel's hold and a four-foot hole in her bow.

He attempted to beach his ship, but later ordered his crew to the lifeboats as the Eastholm filled rapidly.

CREW PICKED UP

Flashlight signals from the crew in the lifeboats were seen by Capt. Robert wilson of the coastal steamer Venture, who picked the 10 men up and brought them to Vancouver.

Radio warnings were sent out to other vessels to watch for the freighter and she was discovered later floating in the bay. She rapidly filled and sank.

The lumber barge was towed into the harbor by the tug Tarzan after the collision, for repairs.

Today the tugboat Goblin and Gryphon of the Gulf of Georgia Towing Company Limited, and the West Coast Salvage Company's derrick scow Cherrypicker located the sunken hulk and prepared to salvage her.

The crew of the Eastholm was composed of Capt. G. G. Brown, E. Swank, first mate; T. H. Thomas, first engineer; H. Anderson, second engineer; P. David, winchman; H. Swanson, H. Charles, Hans Peterson, T. K. Hill and J. Fischer, seamen.

The wooden Eastholm was built here in 1913, and had been in the coastal trade since 1917. She was en route to Seattle with a cargo of canned salmon and hides when she collided with the barge.

RAIN NEAR RECORD

Rainfall in Vancouver during November neared a 25-year record for the month, and was 3.24 inches more than the average for the last 31 years, according to the monthly report issued by the Dominion Meterological Service.

A total precipitation of 11.01 inches was recorded for the month, 2.8 inches of that amount being snow.

Total precipitation for November, 1919, was 11.25 inches and the record for the month, established in 1909, was 15.66 inches.

JAPANESE ARMY IN DISPLAY IN FOREIGN AREA OF SHANGHAI

Maj.-Gen. A. P. D. Telfer-Smollet, commander of the British forces, was understood to have ordered his troops to remove a portion of their defence barricades to permit passage of the parade.

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—British authorities regard Japan's threatened victory march through the International Settlement in Shanghai in the light of a "childish exhibition."

Official advices have been received that the Japanese intend to march "certain troops" through the Settlement. How many troops will participate the official advices do not indicate.

Independent advices, however, state six Japanese battalions will be on parade. They will march Friday through the principal streets of the Settlement, which is choked with 3,000,000 Chinese, many of them homeless refugees.

British authorities in Shanghai, it is intimated, will not attempt to stop the Japanese by force But they will do everything in their power to prevent street fighting.

PACTS STUDIED

Authorities here, while backward about expressing an opinion without closer study, regard Japan's threatened march as a "possible violation" of international agreements. Experts are now studying this feature of the situation. Diplomatic representations at Tokio are probable.

The International Settlement grew from an old area which Great Britain leased from China. First by amalgamation with the United States area and then by co-operation with other powers, it became a self-governing foreign settlement under Chinese sovereignty, administered by a municipal council of 14, of whom Japan now elects two members.

SHANGHAI (AP) — Chinese dispatches from Hangchow today said more than 1,000 civilians were killed and wounded in a Japanese air raid on Hsiaoshan, about 12 miles southeast of Hangchow, Thursday.

Five hundred dead and wounded noncombatants were reported found in the ruins of buildings destroyed by Japanese incendiary bombs. Those buried in the wreckage were not immediately extricated.

Scores were made homeless by the destruction of 1,100 houses in Hsiaoshan (approximately 100 miles southwest of Shanghai).

Two Chinese airplanes raided Japanese positions at Shanghai Thursday in the first aerial attack in more than a month.

One bomb dropped near the former anchorage of the Japanese flagship Idzumo, near the Japanese consulate, but did no damage.

Japanese said the Chinese planes operated at a height of 10,000 feet, successfully evading pursuit craft.

REPORT CHINESE LOSS

They declared, however, that in an air battle near or over Nanking six Japanese planes shot down 13 of China's new Soviet-built airplanes.

China was said to be massing a fleet of 300 Russian-built warplanes for a renewal of aerial attacks on Japan's advancing armies.

Twenty new twin-engined bombers arrived at Hankow, 300 miles up the Yangtze River from Nanking, and were being tuned up by Chinese pilots, well-informed and reliable foreigners reported. The remainder of the fleet of 300 Soviet-built craft were said to be either at Sian, 400 miles north and west of Hankow, or on their way from Russia.

Explaining the Japanese air victory at Nanking, the Japanese spokesman said a Japanese squadron arrived at the city just as the Chinese planes were about to take off. Thirty of the Soviet-built planes rose to fight the Japanese, and 10 were shot down. He said three other Chinese fell victims of Japanese fire as they attempted to flee from the airdrome.

AIRFIELD RAIDED

Foreign naval officers said Chinese bombers raided the Japanese airfield at Woosung, down the Whangpoo River from Shanghai. Japanese declined to comment on the report.

On the Yangtze delta battleground Japanese fought their way toward objectives where groups of United States residents were believed to be in danger.

Heavy Japanese bombers showered projectiles ahead of infantry units driving toward Nanking and Wuhu, Yangtze River port 60 miles southwest of the almost-deserted Chinese capital. Another Japanese column was aimed at Hangchow, Chekiang province seaport to the south.

The United States consulate and mission authorities expressed fears for the safety of 13 Americans, mostly women and children, marooned at Mokanshaw or nearby.

HOLDOUT AT FORTS

Despite a previous announcement the Kiangyin forts had been occupied, Japanese naval officers admitted they were not yet "completely captured." A part of the fortifications still were held by Chinese, who struck back at Japanese air raiders with anti-aircraft shells.

Nine Japanese warships, including an aircraft carrier, were steaming toward Haichow, seaport 180 miles north of Nanking.

(At Hongkong, British crown colony on China's southern coast, the Japanese consul protested against what he termed the activities of anti-Japanese secret societies. He cited an attempt to bomb a Chinese store selling Japanese goods as evidence of the movement. The Hongkong government was understood to have assured Japanese it would attempt to suppress any illegal activities.)

PLANES SHIPPED

MANILA (AP)—The Manila Tribune said Thursday five or six heavy bombing planes, unloaded here recently and consigned to H. H. Kung, Chinese Minister of Finance, were started toward Hongkong last Tuesday aboard the British freighter Benmacdhui.

Kung's name, the newspaper said, was removed and the shipment readdressed to a British concern at Hongkong. The planes were said to have been purchased by China in the United States and brought to Manila aboard the motorship Taiyin.

SAFETY REQUEST

NANKING (AP) — Japanese authorities refused Thursday to grant the Nanking International Committee's plea for a safety zone for 250,000 civilians in this beleaguered Chinese capital.

"The Japanese army can not assume responsibility in the event that Chinese forces misbehave towards civilians or property in Nanking, but as far as consistent with military necessity the Japanese army will endeavor to respect the residential area outlined by Nanking's international group," Japanese said.

do not agree to the arbitration award.

Any award made by the arbitrators is made retroactive to the date of the original notice of dispute sent to the Minister of Labor.

GOES TO HOUSE SOON

Premier Pattullo, supplementing his statement, said the bill was now being drafted and would be presented to the House within a short time.

Announcement of the details followed weeks of discussion and speculation on the question of labor's right to organize and collective bargaining.

Representatives of Trades and Labor Councils met here early in the session and approved a measure called Bill 62, sponsored by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which in effect guaranteed labor the right of organization.

Harold Winch, C.C.F. whip, also has given notice of a bill in the House covering the same subject.

A strong debate in the House is predicted for the government's measure, and attempts may be made to introduce the others as well.

HOLD-UP CHARGE AGAINST LAWYER IN VANCOUVER

The Dunbar bank branch was held up Wednesday by a lone gunman who escaped in an automobile despite six shots fired after him by bank employees. S. H. Ewing, manager, Arthur Bird, teller, and Dickson Wood, ledgerkeeper, were in the bank when the holdup occurred.

The gunman, described as about 50 years old, walked in and asked Bird to change a $1 bill. As the teller opened the change drawer the gunman said: "This is a holdup."

Bird shoved a handful of bills through the wicket and the gunman, grabbing them, fled to the automobile, believed to have been stolen.

Ewing and Bird fired after him.

DEMOCRACY CALL BY LLOYD GEORGE

The issue now was not merely one of the conquest of Ethiopia or the suppression of democracy in Spain. It had gone far beyond that. Liberty, democracy and international right throughout the world were at stake. There were enemies on the march, growing in strength and audacity and reckless power. That was the outstanding fact. World appeasement would not be found along the path of surrender.

"FAILURE EVERYWHERE"

"We have ridden that Rotten Row for five years and have got no farther," the former Prime Minister declared. "The result has been ignominious failure everywhere."

Mr. Lloyd George poured scorn on those who argued that supression of liberty was no concern of Britain's so long as she was not attacked. With his pointer, he indicated growing Fascist power along the Mediterranean and down the Red Sea.

The "cowardly" policy of the last few years, Mr. Lloyd George continued, was "stupid folly and a betrayal, not only of democracy, but of Britain and her interests."

He attacked the Chamberlain government for its "snubs" to the League of Nations.

"The chances of a disarmament agreement have been thrown away," he said. "Blow after blow has been struck at Geneva. The League is now stricken with palsy. Its right side paralysed, its right arm withered, its voice feebly indistinct, jibbering."

"You cannot frighten a tiger from its prey," he warned, "by waving phylacteries in its face."

MANITOBA FOR PRAIRIE UNION

Consolidation of Three Provinces Desirable, Bracken Tells Commission

WINNIPEG (CP)—Consolidation of the government's of the three prairie provinces into one administration has the full support of the Manitoba government, Premier John Bracken told the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations today.

Such a proposal was made by the Manitoba government a few years ago, Premier Bracken said. If a similar proposal again is not accepted any more favorably than the last there is not much hope, he added.

There were "very great difficulties" in working such a scheme out in a practical way, but he favored a thorough exploration of the possibilities, he said.

The matter was raised by Chairman N. W. Rowell as Premier Bracken began presentation of the final section of the Manitoba brief to the commission.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Development of any permanent body of unemployed in a nation with great unoccupied areas was "startling," Hon. N. W. Rowell, chairman of the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial Relations, said today.

"But what good is the frontier if a man can get only 50 cents a bushel for wheat at Fort William?" asked Hon. Stuart S. Garson, Manitoba Provincial Treasurer.

The chairman suggested possible increase in subsistence farming, where most food required would be grown, was a partial solution. He said he could understand the lack of expansion in wheat farming.

Germany Denies China Mediation

Berlin Says Ambassador Not Negotiating, But Watching Chance

BERLIN (AP)—Denials Oskar P. Trautmann, German Ambassador to China, is at present mediating peace between China and Japan came today from the German Foreign Office.

German officials felt certain Japan would insist on capturing Nanking before listening to peace proposals.

Nevertheless, government spokesmen here intimated Dr. Trautmann was watching every possible opportunity for German mediation.

Confidence In Democracy Need

Canadian Finance Minister Speaks at Life Insurance Convention in New York

NEW YORK (CP) — Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Canadian Minister of Finance, asserted today confidence in free institutions and ordered liberty was necessary to withstand the "nonsense" that democracy is less efficent than dictatorship.

"We have even on this continent," he told the Association of Life Insurance Presidents of America at its 31st annual convention here, "some who seek to convince us that democracy cannot possibly be as efficient as dictatorship and that we must abandon our voice in government in order to avoid being overwhelmed in the near future by the massed efficiency of dictator ships.

"It is not enough for us to say that this is nonsense, that nothing of this nature can happen here. The pages of history show clearly that while dictatorships have never been permanently constructive in human affairs, their capacity to destroy the liberties and institutions built up by others stands clearly revealed."

He cited the "tremendous" assistance to mutual understanding involved in a common language, facilitating visiting back and forth between Canada and the United States by great numbers of citizens ever year. He warned against taking for granted the long-established friendship of the two nations, their understanding and confidence. Rather, he felt, should that understanding be cultivated more and more.

Canada Auto Sales Increase

New Cars Put Out in October 45.4 Per Cent Above Same Month of 1936

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today Canada's October sales of new motor vehicles totaled 5,847 units at $6,552,261, against 4,021 at $4,590,475 in October, 1936, an increase of 45.4 per cent in number and 42.7 per cent in value.

Sales by provinces with October, 1936, figures in brackets: Ontario, 2,771 at $3,135,250 (1,777 at $2,003,242); Manitoba, 432 at $472,359 (232 at $250,551); Saskatchewan, 240 at $253,247 (289 at $305,274); Alberta, 592 at $651,678 (326 at $343,417); British Columbia, 531 at $579,683 (315 at $423,763.)

New Vancouver Assessment Roll

List Shows Taxpayers' Bills in 1938 Will Be Cut By $100,000

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver property owners' tax bills in 1938 will be cut by about $100,000, according to the civic assessment roll for 1938. As issued Wednesday by Commissioner J. W. Allen, the roll shows $2,449,212 decrease in assessments on which a levy will be made.

This reduction was caused by falling land assessments, the commissioner said.

Features of the statement, taken at November 30, were:

1. An increase in improvement assessments from $179,830,285 in 1937 to $182,437,781 in 1938, an increase of $2,605,496. Of that sum, however, only 50 per cent is taxed, making an actual taxed assessment increase of $1,303,248.

2. The total tax assessment on land has been reduced from $130,036,775 to $126,284,315, a reduction of $3,752,450.

3. Total assessment, including tax exempt property, has been cut from $365,147,030 to $363,860,176.

4. Assessment of exempt property has dropped from $55,279,970 to $55,139,080, a reduction of $140,890.

The increased assessments on improvements are due to the large number of new buildings, according to Mr. Allen.

CHEAPER COAL FOR U.S. HOMES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of the Bituminous Coal Commission, issuing a minimum price schedule designed to resuscitate the $11,000,000,000 soft coal industry of the United States, said Wednesday home owners would share in the benefits.

In the main, they said, the man who fires his own furnace will pay a lower price for coal, but the cost to commercial users will be higher than at present.

The new schedule will go into effect December 16, and will apply to virtually every mine east of the Mississippi and in Iowa—80 per cent of the industry.

Prices at the mine will range roughly from $1 to $4.85 a ton, to which must be added freight rates, retailers' share and in some instances, wholesale charges, before the coal reaches the consumer's bin.

The intricate system of price-fixing applies individually to each of several thousand mines.

THINNING OUT BISON

DAUPHIN, Man. (CP)—There are too many buffalo in the Riding Mountain National Park, 200 miles northwest of Winnipeg, officials said Wednesday in announcing 25 animals would be slaughtered. From a herd of 20 brought from Wainwright, Alta., several years ago, the number increased to 83 this year. New feeding grounds are being prepared for next year's surplus.

Premier King On Tour in the U.S.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Prime Minister King of Canada, en route to Florida for a vacation, said here Wednesday he was keeping his exact destination secret so he would not be disturbed.

"I have just passed through an arduous year in Canada, and I expect another equally hard year to come," he said, declining to be photographed. "So I am going to get plenty of sunshine and rest. I'll decide later—after I've been out in the sun awhile—when I shall return."

Score Seek Votes In Vancouver

Twelve Nominated For City Council; Five For School Board

VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty-two candidates will contest four aldermanic, four school board and three park board seats in the Vancouver civic election December 8.

When nominations closed at noon Wednesday 12 names were entered for the aldermanic contest, five for the school board seats and five for the park board.

Four candidates, Aldermen Helena Gutteridge and Alfred Hurry, W. R. Offer and E. F. Robinson have the support of the Co-operative Comonwealth Federation in the contest for the city council seats, while the Vancouver Nonpartizan Association is backing four others—Aldermen T. H. Kirk, R. P. Pettipiece, H. L. Corey and H. J. De Graves. Mrs. Edward Mahon, former Mayor L. D. Taylor, A. C. Cowan and Alex Fordyce are running with no party affiliation.

SCHOOL BOARD

Miss M. M. Osterhout, seeking re-election to the school board, is supported by the C.C.F. Four other school board candidates, Fred J. Dawson, J. A. Campbell, James Blackwood and Mrs. Ada Crump, the last three seeking re-election, are supported by the Nonpartizan Association.

Two C.C.F. candidates, Mrs. S. L. Clark and J. Corkill, are seeking park board seats which are also contested by Major W. G. Swan, A. E. Jukes and R. Rowe Holland, all supported by the Nonpartizan Association.

A third C.C.F. park board candidate, W. N. Wallace, dropped out just before the nominations closed.

Mr. Holland, park board chairman, is the only member of the board seeking re-election.

STRIKES IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A new wave of strikes threatened in Mexico today despite repeated appeals from President Lazaro Cardenas for industrial peace. Sixty local unions of the National Federation of the Electrical Industry have called power strikes to start December 10. This would affect 24 states, all except four grouped about the federal district, and would be in sympathy with the electrical strikers of Colima, who walked out a week ago.

TRIBUTES TO LATE SENATOR P. BURNS

CALGARY (CP)—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett paid tribute to the late Senator Patrick Burns Wednesday as he officially opened the new $250,000 abbatoir of Burns and Company here.

"The workman has gone, but the work endures," the federal Conservative leader who appointed Mr. Burns to the Senate, said. "The late Senator Burns established this industry with a vision which saw far beyond the confines of his generation."

Other tributes were paid to the former "cattle king" by Mayor Andrew Davidson, Col. V. Spencer, Vancouver; J. W. Hugill, K.C., former Attorney-General of Alberta, and A. C. Newton, William Toole and John I. McFarland, company directors.

The addresses were given before an audience of 1,000 which filled to capacity the hall of the industrial plant. The building was thrown open to inspection by visitors.

La Guardia Now With Labor Party

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, historically the greatest metropolitan stronghold of the Democrats, formally has become a member of the American Labor Party, cutting any last tie with his old nominal Republican affiliation.

U.S. JOBLESS ESTIMATE

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a rise of 293,000 during October in the number of unemployed persons in the United States, the National Industrial Conference Board estimated Wednesday. This increase over the September level lifted the number of unemployed to an estimated total of 6,355,000.

Vote Is Reverse For de Valera

GALWAY, Irish Free State (CP-Havas)—President Eamon de Valera suffered a political reverse Wednesday in the Galway corporation elections when only one out of 12 contested seats was won by his Fianna Fail party.

Nine independent business candidates and two Labor men were re-elected. Mr. de Valera's party entered seven contestants.

Galway has long been considered a Valera stronghold. In explanation of the new trend here, it was recalled Galway last year resented the government's refusal of landing rights to the German Lufthansa air company in connection with experimental flights over the north Atlantic. The German flying boats Aeolus and Zephyr, which took off from Sydney, N.S., landed at the Azores instead of Galway.

DUKE ON VISIT TO CLYDESIDE

GLASGOW (CP)—In a murky fog the Duke of Kent Wednesday toured unemployment centres of Clydeside.

The Duke's car traveled so fast to one destination that two following press cars were outdistanced and did not arrive until the cermony was over and the Duke had left. It was explained later the Duke was anxious spectators should not be kept waiting in the cold and damp.

BAN ON PUBLICATIONS

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The legislation committee of the Chamber of Deputies Wednesday night approved a bill empowering the government to enforce an export-import ban on any newspapers and magazines containing writing capable of troubling foreign opinion or diminishing French prestige.

German Papers Attack Editorial Calling For Co-operation of Democracies

BERLIN (CP-Havas) — Two German newspapers Wednesday criticized The New York Times for an editorial urging co-operation among the democracies.

The newspaper Nachtausgabe devoted much front page space to comment on the editorial, published in the New York newspaper Tuesday, calling for United States co-operation with Great Britain and other democracies toward "understandings on trade, money and credit" which the paper suggested would "serve as certain weapons against the treaty-breakers."

"Economic war is demanded against Germany, Italy and Japan," a headline in the Nachtausgabe said. It urged the United States government to prohibit publication of such editorials "dictated by vile and lying instincts, and inspired by Jewish-Bolshevist sources."

The Berliner Tageblatt in a similar editorial declared that "high moral considerations in the United States often take most brutal forms."

WOMAN DIES OF BURNS IN HOME

ESTERHAZY, Sask. (CP)—Mrs. Albert Westelak died Wednesday night from burns suffered when the family home near Hazelcliffe was destroyed by fire.

Mr. Westelak and two daughters were still in serious condition today as result of burns.

Westelak suffered serious burns rescuing his family from the flames. He jumped from a second-story room, his clothes on fire.

Production Of Coal in B.C. Up

OTTAWA (CP) — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today Canada's October coal production was 1,694,210 tons compared with 1,808,166 in October, 1936. Canada's available supply during the month was 3,498,714 tons against 3,405,388 in the same month last year.

Production by provinces with October, 1936, figures in brackets: Saskatchewan 151,994 (161,727), Alberta 690,760 (792,927), British Columbia 144,392 (129,532).

Canada imported 1,837,501 tons of coal in October compared with 1,633,744 in October, 1936, while her exports totaled 32,997 tons against 36,522.

Coke production totaled 218,077 tons compared with 212,344.

Hoax in France During Round-up

PARIS (AP)—Postal inspectors, all atwitter over the drive against France's secret revolutionary organization, thought they had something Wednesday when they opened a package addressed to the private residence of Vice-Premier Leon Blum and found what looked like a dangerous glass tube containing a black powder.

The package was carried gingerly to police laboratories, where the powder was identified as ground pencil lead and the glass tube as a perfume bottle. Police said it apparently had been sent by a practical joker.

FLAG AND SALUTES

PHILADELPHIA — Federal Judge Albert B. Maris ruled Wednesday school children may not be compelled to salute the United States flag if they consider this a violation of their religious beliefs. Walter Gobitis said on behalf of his children, Lillian and William, pupils in the Minersville School district of Schuylkill County, Pa., the school board in 1936 had required children to salute the flag and expelled those who refused.

CHRISTMAS TREES

VANCOUVER (CP) — A two day vigil by two Christmas tree salesmen was rewarded at the City Hall Wednesday when the civic license department accepted their applications for two of the choicest locations in the city for their holiday season trade. The pair spent Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night waiting at the City Hall entrance, making sure that they would be first in line at the license department.

Dog Popularity Plot Is Alleged

A plot to make the dog an unpopular animal, allegedly so as to make a larger supply available for vivisection, was reported to the directors of the Victoria branch of the Anti-Vivisection Society at a recent meeting by the secretary.

An incredible number of dogs were vivisected annually, it was stated.

A letter was received from the Women's Guild of Empire, London, on the subject of a petition presented to the Archbishop of Canterbury protesting the vivisection of animals before students in Christian missions.

The directors supported an agitation against the shipment of monkeys for experimental purposes. It was stated one boat which recently called at Halifax had 500 on board. A report on the animal welfare work of the Pavillon Zoophilia erected at the Paris Exposition was read.

G. H. Scarrett To Be Ordained

G. H. Scarrett, B.A., headmaster of the University School, will be ordained into the ministry of the Free Church of England at special services to be held next Sunday morning in the Church of Our Lord, Humboldt Street.

The ordination rite will be conducted by Right Rev. G. Marshall, Toronto, Bishop of the Eastern Diocese of the Free Church of England, who will be assisted by Rev. A. de B. Owen, Rev. A. R. Keevil, New Westminster, and Rev. T. W. Fry, Vancouver.

Mr. Scarrett has been a lay reader of the congregation for some time and in this capacity has rendered valuable assistance to the church during the illness of the rector by preaching and conducting the services. He will continue this voluntary work after his ordination.

Business Awaits Canada

LETTERS TO THE EDITORS OF THE three Vancouver newspapers show that Mr. G. G. McGeer's tourist development plan, laid before the public of the mainland city last week, has fired the imagination of not a few people. There are letters from scoffers, of course, who do not seem to like Mr. McGeer's monetary or tourist plans.

Back of Mr. McGeer's mind is the belief that Canada's tourist business, now worth more than $300,000,000, could in a comparatively short time be developed into an industry worth three times as much. He contends there is a billion-dollar business within this country's reach if the Canadian people will go after it as if they wanted it. This figure naturally staggers the skeptic.

Not so very many years ago Los Angeles took the notion that it had a climate it could sell to easterners whose health had broken down. It gradually converted its sandy waste and sunshine into what that city and its environs are today. The people down there had imagination and capitalized it.

As Mr. McGeer says, there are in the neighboring republic 28,000,000 automobiles and a bank roll of $54,000,000,000! Knowing this, are we going to scoff, or use our imagination in a practical way?

Platform—Where Art Thou?

IT IS NOT TO BE WONDERED AT THAT the Conservative press is asking Mr. Bennett what he is going to do about a platform for the party of which he is leader. Such Tory journalistic stalwarts as The Montreal Gazette and The Victoria Colonist, of course, began the agitation weeks ago; but, it was not unnatural for the local journal to leave unsaid what it might have wanted to say on the subject while Mr. Bennett was here. Mr. Bennett has gone home a sadder and wiser man. But the Colonist does not propose to give him any peace until he has bestirred himself.

"The opinion seems to be generally held throughout Canada," says the Colonist, "that the Conservative Party, if it is to be adequately prepared for the next general election, must be reorganized, and must have under serious consideration the problem of policy and programme, and the construction of a platform to meet the needs of the day. We are told that Liberal newspapers are exhibiting some apprehension that the new Conservative platform that they look for may be constructed on such advanced and progressive lines as to prove fatally attractive to those elements of the population that have hitherto looked to Liberalism for political inspiration and guidance."

The Colonist chides those newspapers of its own political belief that are apparently sold on the idea of demanding a platform that will "make a wide enough appeal, attract and capture a sufficiency of votes, and safely, carry the reorganized Conservative party into office." With this conception of party platform construction it has no patience; it thinks "the Conservative party can be trusted to adhere firmly to the principles that it professes, great principles of undoubted validity that can readily be applied to the solution of our political problems."

Our contemporary evidently realizes that the Conservative party is in a bad way. First and foremost is the problem of leadership. Even Canada's most rabid Tories do not like the Bennett style of ministerial domination. But who is to take Mr. Bennett's place? Who is to take on the business of reorganization, the job of gathering up the material with which to construct the new platform "on such advanced and progressive lines as to prove fatally attractive to those elements of Liberalism that have hitherto looked to Liberalism for political inspiration and guidance?" Senator McRae made it clear the other day that he and Mr. Bennett are definitely "at outs."

The chief difficulty confronting the Conservative party is the plain fact, manifest throughout Canada, that the application of the principles of Liberalism is quite satisfactory to the vast majority of the Canadian people.

Grand Opera Comes Back

FOR WAGNER'S "TRISTAN AND Isolde," opening the Metropolitan Opera House season in New York on Monday, the house was sold out one hour after the box office opened. Selling of the Metropolitan in one hour was such an unusual event, that The New York Times gave the story about it a double column head on page one.

In this case, of course, the season is beginning with one of Master Richard's most popular themes. The cast on the opening night was headed by Kirstan Flagstad, one of the greatest singers of the time. Nevertheless, the fact that it would have required a house twice as large as the Metropolitan to seat all the people who wanted to get in for the first night, seems to have a rather grand significance for opera in general.

Enthusiasm for the opera season is by no means limited to first-nighters. Because of popular demand, the New York season has been lengthened for two weeks, to a total of 16 weeks. This is the first increase of the winter period at the Metropolitan since the depression caused its shortening from 24 to 14 weeks.

Cutting Mining Scandals

WHEN MR. BRUHN TOLD THE LEGISlature that despite the Securities Act, there had been more trouble in mining in the last few years than ever before, he voiced what has been only too evident to outsiders.

As we ourselves have pointed out a number of times, some of the largest "deals" and most costly to the small investor, have been put over under cover of the Securities Act. The act has given the public an unwarranted assurance of protection. We were informed when the act was amended a few years ago that it had been made "foolproof" with respect to public participation. The result has been to encourage the public to go into mining speculation with its eyes more nearly closed than before.

Somehow, the act in spite of all its red tape has never plugged the loopholes. For one thing, it favored the stock promoter on the theory that the more promotions the greater the mining development, no matter at what cost to the public. Commissions of 20 per cent and higher to brokers on the sale of treasury stock are ridiculously out of proportion to the services rendered. Promotion has been made unduly profitable, resulting in an unjustified number of companies being "high-pressured" on the public.

Either commissions should be cut to what they are in other brokerage lines, or the greater part of the commissions should be impounded until it is proved that a promotion has merits. Only by some such action can promoters be discouraged from flitting from prospect to prospect, leaving the public stranded with production never pushed beyond the promotion stage.

The Attorney-General is taking wide general powers in amendments to the act now before the Legislature. Unless he uses these powers with full knowledge of contemporary market and brokerage practices, we might, as Mr. Perry seems to suggest, be better off if the whole act were scrapped, with the public taking its chances as in the old pre-regulation days when the buyer knew he had to beware—and apparently was more often so than now.

Explaining President Roosevelt

NO LESS AN ANALYST OF HISTORICAL personages than Emil Ludwig, the biographer of Napoleon, Cleopatra and other great human characters, came from Europe to seek an answer to the Roosevelt enigma suggested by the oft-asked questions: Why does a rich man become a friend of the poor? And how does a man physically handicapped become a fighter who throws himself every day into the thick of the battle?

Ludwig develops his answer in the book he has just completed, "Roosevelt." He presents no conclusions in the first part, published in the current Liberty, but presents some background reactions that are illuminating on the Roosevelt policies:

"Here, from the historic point of view, is perhaps the last attempt to carry out the social revolution without resorting to force. The sons of those Americans who are opposing Roosevelt today will perhaps some day erect a monument to him as the last of those who fought to preserve their system. One thing certain is that the sons of the poor, for whom he took up the fight, will not forget him. For at bottom what is at issue here is nothing other than rich and poor.

"That there should be so many to hate him disturbs me as little as it does him. I have met Roosevelt's opponents throughout the whole country in all classes. When I put the question to them, they all began by admitting that in 1933 he had saved the country, but added that today he was playing the dictator. Only those can speak thus who have never had the misfortune to breathe the air of an unfree country."

Notes

Diplomats may back the wrong side, but the smart ones join the winner in time for the banquet.

English animal lovers now have a society to prevent the use of animals in war. This does not, of course, refer to bipeds.

Istanbul treats itself to a big show of military power. Possibly the natives fear Turkey may become an international dish.

The more we watch the antics of Europe's statesmen as they play for "prestige," the greater our astonishment that civilization survives so well.

FASCISM IN CANADA

From The New York Post

The ostensible aim of the repressionist drive in Quebec and Montreal is "Communism," but as in most such cases the term is interpreted broadly enough to take in most liberals, the labor unions and freedom of speech.

A law passed in Quebec last March authorizing the police to padlock all halls or meeting places used to disseminate Communist propaganda has been used to padlock the liberal French weekly La Clarte and the home of one of its editors, Jean Peron, who was a Co-operative Commonwealth candidate in the 1935 elections.

Unions have been warned to purge themselves of "subversive" elements. The ban on Communist meetings has been extended to all meetings of organizations of unemployed and Cardinal Villeneuve is quoted as praising the repressionist campaign in an address before a Catholic Youth rally in Quebec City on October 30.

"Paganism," the Cardinal said, according to the dispatch sent The New York Times, "has many offers. Among them are freedom of speech, freedom to insult our traditions, our beliefs and our religion."

We cannot believe that the Cardinal was correctly quoted.

WHERE TO?

THE Legislature of British Columbia paused suddenly on Wednesday, to wonder where society was going. This is a subject so seldom contemplated that the mere mention of it instantly threw the House into a violent little quarrel, caused members to speak, quite unconsciously, in opposition to the principles of their parties and forced Mr. Pattullo into a peace dove's role, which he never finds comfortable.

All this occurred most unexpectedly just before dinner time, when the House was getting hungry and a little cranky. It developed out of a harmless-looking bill by which Dr. MacDonald seeks to legalize the system of fruits, vegetables and honey inspection which he has been enforcing for years under another act frowned on by the courts. There is nothing in the new act not now already on the statute books and in active enforcement, but it gave the opposition a great chance to stand back and ask what society was coming to.

That the Conservative opposition should ask this was a piece of interesting irony, which Dr. MacDonald, a good man in a rough and tumble fight, was quick to grasp. For the very powers of controlling fruits, vegetables and honey which the Conservatives attacked were the ones put into Canadian law by Mr. Bennett and then enforced by the province.

PROTEST

BUT there was a more interesting paradox than that. The C.C.F., which seeks a controlled and regimented society, suddenly protested against Dr. MacDonald's interference with the rights of the individual. Mr. Winch, the younger, fairly burned with protest as he told how his automobile was frequently stopped on the Fraser River bridges to see if he were carrying bootleg potatoes or turnips.

And Dr. Telford, ever ready and skillfull in finding the smallest peg to hang a socialist speech on, cried out that if capitalism had broken down, its collapse should be admitted and not disguised by marketing acts. He started to talk about the marketing of wheat, but Chairman Carson didn't see that this had anything to do with fruit and honey.

When good old Frank Putnam lumbered into the debate to demand that the C.C.F. let the farmers unionize a bit like the city workers, Dr. Telford insisted that he should be allowed to talk about these things, too.

Mr. Carson wasn't going to hear any more of that sort of thing from Dr. Telford. For the first time the members saw Dr. Telford mad. He shouted that Mr. Carson could rule him right out of the House if he wanted to. Mr. Carson leaped up to say Dr. Telford wasn't fair. Dr. Telford said Mr. Carson wasn't fair.

SOOTHING

THIS WAS GETTING a little absurd and Mr. Pattullo tried to soothe the House like a parent reasoning with some clamorous children. After all, said he, Mr. Putnam didn't talk much (almost never) and even if he were slightly out of order, why not indulge him a little? Otherwise, without a little human give and take, the House would never get anywhere.

Quite right, retorted Dr. Telford, the House never did get anywhere, and he insisted on appealing the chairman's ruling. Even when Mr. Perry, our final authority on rules, rushed to the rescue with an involved explanation, Dr. Telford insisted again and forced a vote. The House, of course, sustained Mr. Carson, but Dr. Telford got Mr. Perry's vote.

So Dr. Telford was hushed, and a moment later was all smiles. But the wrangle went on as the House contemplated not some new and drastic invasion of individual liberties, but the invasion already approved here and in Ottawa and existing in the law. Even the Premier admitted that he disliked regimentation and was at times a little rebellious, but in this complex society, you couldn't let everyone do as he pleased.

Mr. Macintosh, with a sigh for our vanishing freedom, kept up a running fight on Dr. MacDonald's bill, calling it government by regulation; which drew from the Premier the definite announcement that 'the government should be placed in a position to do anything necessary at any time in the public interest." This sounded too much like the old S.P.A. to Mr. Bruhn and he raised a faint cry of "Dictatorship!" The Premier hastened to explain that governments must operate, of course, within the laws of the Legislature, so it was quite all right.

Still the opposition, and particularly the socialists, wondered what society was coming to. As nobody had the least idea they got no answer. And in the end, still wondering, the House passed Dr. MacDonald's bill, in which there is nothing new whatever.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to a weary march through Mr. Wismer's huge Securities Act. Doggedly Mr. Wismer pushed through his first major piece of legislation, arguing where necessary, laughing off criticism with boyish gusto, and finally putting his foot down where he had to. He is the kind of A.-G. who can get his bills through the House with a minimum of trouble by lubricating them with a grin.

The arguments wound up with another of Mr. King's notable sayings: "Make me take over any line of goods you like," said Mr. King, the merchant of Golden, "and I'll sell four out of five householders. They have no sales resistance." By this time the House hadn't either and agreed to take Mr. Wismer's ponderous act as it stands.

ADVICE TO NEWSPAPERMEN

From Walter Winchell's Column

One of the veteran newspapermen of the town, who has covered every field of news for over 30 years, was giving counsel to some of us last night. . . . Some of us, that is, who were being flattered by celebrities and those seeking favor. . . . "Don't ever get to know people about whom you write," he cautioned. "Because you will make the terrible mistake most do—of getting to know too many whose rent is due."

POLITICAL SPECULATION

To the Editor:—Speculation has been aroused by the mysterious interviews between Premiers Mackenzie King and Mitchell Hepburn.

A few weeks ago a statement was made in a Washington, D.C., newspaper that rumors were abroad in Ottawa that certain cabinet changes were in contemplation and that two new ministers were to be appointed who would be satisfactory to Premiers Mitchell Hepburn and Maurice Duplessis. Considerable detail regarding the proposed changes were given.

To what extent these rumors may be supported by fact, I, of course, do not know. I merely mention them as a possible explanation of the secret meetings between Messrs. King and Hepburn.

POLICE COURT JUSTICE

To the Editor:—It is tragic to read in our daily papers the punishments frequently meted out to offenders of the law.

Recently a Hindu was fined $5 for going to work too early in Victoria, loading wood before 7.30 a.m. Yet noisy parties tear through our streets at all hours making terribly disturbing noises and nothing is done.

Yesterday we read where a chap speeding for aid for his sick wife was fined $20 or three days in jail. Yet very recently three youths who robbed a garage, set off dynamite and generally destroyed property and endangered life were let off with suspended sentence.

Just what is it all about, where is our sense of justice and fair play?

We merchants are put to heavy expense to carry insurance for protection. Culprits caught after much effort and expense are allowed off free, yet when decent, respectable citizens break some law they are smartly penalized. Suspended sentence may be all right, but if good for one, why not apply to all first offenders?

It is a standing joke among the youths of our city that a first offender gets suspended sentence, but the Hindu and this sick case got no such consideration.

There seems to be little justice in many of the cases that come before our local courts, and I think if someone was to recite a few of these parallel cases in the papers from time to time it would surely call for some explanation or enlightenment.

SATISFACTION IN ESQUIMALT

To the Editor:—I would like to voice my appreciation of the work done by the president of the Esquimalt Liberal Association, J. F. Mesher, who gave his time and energy to further the interests of Liberalism in his district. With the able assistance of the many workers under H. Hammond, everything was in order at the opening of the polls. And we all know the results obtained from their vigilance all during the campaign until the closing of the polls.

Name Changed Of Boys' School

Corrective Institution Now to Be Known as Training School

The name of the Industrial School for Boys in British Columbia will be changed to the Training School for Boys under a C.C.F. amendment accepted by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, in the Legislature yesterday.

E. E. Winch, Burnaby, suggested the amendment, saying the name Industrial School carried a certain stigma.

J. A. Paton, Conservative, Point Grey, opposed it as an unnecessary change involving expense for the altering of letterheads, signs and other lettering.

"I don't think we'll need a special warrant to cover it," remarked Premier Pattullo.

"Anyway, it's still a waste of time and money," said George M. Murray, Liberal, Lillooet.

It is expected a similar change in the name of the Girls' Industrial School will be proposed when a bill governing the institution goes before the House shortly.

GRADING BILL PASSES HOUSE

Power of Inspectors on Fruit and Vegetables Draws Fire

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, announced in the Legislature yesterday that his bill for grading fruit, vegetables and honey involved no new principles, but was simply done to clear up a constitutional point on grading formerly done under Dominion law. The Dominion inspectors, he said, will continue to do the grading. The bill was given third reading.

The measure drew fire of the opposition, however, on its powers to permit inspectors to halt cars to determine whether they were carrying ungraded goods.

Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, declared he was "sick and tired" of having his car stopped and searched every time he went across a bridge leading to Vancouver. He did not mind the regulation so much as that the inspectors should use discretion in carrying out their duties.

Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, Conservative, the Islands, protested powers given the government in the bill to pass any regulations it saw fit.

GOVERNMENT'S POWER

This drew the reply from Premier Pattullo that "any government should be placed in the position where it can do anything, so long as it is in the public interest.

"That's dictatorship," chimed in R. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm.

"Not necessarily. You lift a thing out of its context. Naturally I mean within the scope of the legislation," said the Premier.

Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan, said the grading of fruit, vegetables and honey had been going on for 20 years. There was nothing new in the thing at all.

GUARDS AT BRIDGES

"Yes, but its only in the last four years we've had to pass guards at the bridges," said Harold Winch.

Dr. Lyle Telford, C.C.F., Vancouver East, began to branch out on the question of wheat marketing and was quickly called to order by R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops, the committee chairman. This provoked a heated argument on procedure.

Dr. Telford challenged Mr. Carson's decision and called for a standing vote. The Conservatives joined the government in upholding the decision of the chair, R. W. Bruhn, Independent, Salmon Arm, joining the C.C.F. in upholding Dr. Telford.

The clause governing inspection had an especially stormy time before it was passed. Mr. Macintosh said it was not fair to an individual farmer to make him submit to it; J. A. Paton, Conservative, Point Grey, saw over officiousness on the part of officials enforcing it, and Herbert Anscomb, Conservative, Victoria, said it would give a magistrate power to confiscate a whole truckload of fruit, vegetables or honey.

R. R. Burns, Liberal, Rossland-Trail, wished that members objecting to inspection of such commodities would go and live in his district, where there was no inspection.

"We have to eat bloated honey and rotten apples, and go to Spokane to get anything fit to eat," he said.

Dr. Macdonald said an inspector who would abuse his privileges would not be an inspector very long.

St. Matthias Is Scene of Nuptials

Miss Ella M. Smith Pretty Bride Of Mr. John D. Lund

St. Matthias Church was the scene of a pretty wedding last night at 7.30, when Rev. Alan Gardiner united in marriage Ella Marguerite, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Geoffrey Smith, 336 Richmond Avenue, to Mr. John Dolphin Lund, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lund, 1543 Elford Street.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and ferns, and nosegays tied with white satin ribbon marked the guest pews. Entering the church with her father to the strains of the "Lohengrin" Bridal Chorus, played by the church organist, Mrs. Colin Cummins, the pretty blonde bride was a charmling picture in her wedding gown of white satin, slim-fitting and buttoned from the neckline to the hem, with long mousqetaire sleeves and an upstanding collar of rose point, and a long train.

Her veil of exquisite rose point lace, a family heirloom, was arranged in cap fashion and fell in soft folds from a double strand of orange blossom to form a second train. She carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds.

FOUR ATTENDANTS

The four attendants wore picturesque period frocks of taffeta with high-waisted bodices, short puff sleeves and full sweeping skirts, buttoned at the back from the low square neckline to the corded hem of the skirt. Mrs. Noel Robinson, the bride's sister, was matron of honor in rose taffeta shot with gold, the bodice having a full peplum, and wore a gold lace Juliet cap.

Miss Barbara Bradford was in Wallis blue taffeta and the Misses Peggy and Mary Whyte in rose taffeta, all three wearing Juliet caps of silver lace and silver lace mittens. All four attendants carried Colonial bouquets of pink rosebuds, white carnations and purple heather, edged with a silver frill.

Mr. Gordon Walsh was the groomsman, and the ushers were Messrs. Wilfred Lund, Gordon Whiting and Sam Johnson.

HOUSE RECEPTION

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, the young couple receiving the felicitations of their friends before the fireplace in the drawing-room, which was banked with white chrysanthemums. Later the guests passed through an archway hung with silver bells and flanked with baskets of chrysanthemums, to the dining-room where supper was served from a table covered with a lace cloth and centred with the three-tiered wedding cake flanked by tall ivory tapers in silver candlesticks.

Mrs. Smith received the guests in a gown of burgundy velvet, with square cut neck and shirred sleeves, a smart black hat and veil, and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds, and was assisted by Mrs. Lund, mother of the bridegroom, who was gowned in black chiffon velvet, with close-fitting black satin hat with a veil.

Major T. R. Wheadon proposed the toast to the bride.

After a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Seattle, for which the bride left in a navy blue tailored suit and overcoat with a deep collar of grey Persian lamb and black accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Lund will make their home on Richmond Avenue.

New Year's Eve Dance Planned

After a lapse of three years the committee of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club have decided to hold another of their popular New Year's Eve dances at the clubhouse. The committee in charge have reported that a six-piece orchestra has been engaged and all details as to catering, novelties and decorating have been completed to make the celebrating of the New Year gay and seasonable.

Tickets, which have been limited in number to meet the club facilities, may be obtained from members of the Yacht Club. The committee in charge of the arrangements for this dance is comprised of Messrs. E. P. Ashe, J. H. B. Gann and H. McE. Young.

New Year's Eve dances will also be held at the Victoria Golf Club and the Colwood Golf and Country Club.

CALLING ALL DOGS

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

Teeth and a Mystery

Yesterday, I talked to you about the shedding of milk teeth. There is a mysterious connection, which I can't understand, between a puppy's teeth and a puppy's ears. For instance:

During the weeks or months while the milk teeth are loosening and the permanent teeth are coming into place, the ears of collies and many other breeds are likely to go on the rampage. One ear, perhaps, will stand up as straight as the top of a fence picket, while the other ear will lop down as limply as a bloodhound's. The next day, the carriage of the ears may be wholly reversed, or both ears may flop limply or both may be firmly erect.

The ears may take on a beautifully correct "show" posture that will delight you. And a day later, both of them may be all wrong again.

Before and during the teething period, never tamper with a pup's ears, in any way. Don't try to correct their stance, no matter how disreputable it may be. Many an otherwise fine dog's ear-carriage has been ruined for life by such tampering; yes, and by some hard yank given to the ear by another puppy, in play. Until your pup is at least seven months old, don't do anything with his ears. By seven months, as a rule, the teething is over, and the ears are "set."

ANDREW and IMOGENE

By ROE FULKERSON

"No potatoes!" cautioned Imogene as Andrew put a slice of roast beef on her plate.

"Are you dieting again?" he demanded impatiently.

"Yet, not again," said Imogene. "What for?"

"For you, darling! As an evidence that I am not one of those women who forget their figures when they get their man. I would like very much to stay married to you!"

"Don't be silly. You know I like you best when you are husky and healthy looking."

"I know you say that, but I also know that you don't feel that way."

"A generation ago, when a [illegible] married, she stopped [illegible]ng about foolish things like that, and became motherly looking and—"

"And looked like an old hen instead of a young pullet!" interrupted Imogene. "This generation of women can't afford to do that. It is a different world in which we live. The competition is greater, and the surroundings are different.

"I think the moving pictures are the worst influence. Our husbands go night after night to see the flickering photographs, and watch the willowy, lissom figures of a lot of women who never weigh as much as 125 pounds. This unconsciously fixes in their minds a standard of beauty at about that weight. After going home from one of those shows and having to look at a 150-pound wife, they sigh deeply and lose their romantic interest in her.

"No thinking woman wants her husband to admire her because she is the mother of his children, because she is a good housekeeper or because she knows how to make delicious pumpkin pies. Those old-fashioned virtues are all very well, but they are not enough.

"I sat on the country club veranda the other night and heard you tell Bill to just look at Alberta. She has been married at least 15 years and is the mother of three big children, yet to look at her in that simple white velvet frock, one would think she was just out of high school. All that simply means that Alberta weighs only 115!

"Another factor has come into the picture to set a man's ideal of beauty since the last generation. In those good old days, all the clerical work was done by men. There weren't a lot of slender, well-groomed, manicured and permanently waved young women buzzing around every business office for men to contrast with the 150-pound wives they have at home.

"Wives are in competition with those young secretaries and file clerks who are as slim as greyhounds. Those girls have done more to increase the sale of bathroom scales than any amount of printed advertising. It is small wonder that when a plump wife goes to her husband's office and takes a look at his stenographer, she swears off gravies and candies.

"When our wedding anniversary comes around, I don't propose that you shall sigh over the slim slip of a girl who stood beside you when the minister said the fatal words. I still have my wedding dress, and it would surprise you how often I slip away and try it on. Twice I have been unable to make the hooks and eyes meet, and each time that has happened, I have gone back to my diet and made them meet.

"Just as long as you continue to extravagantly admire Albertas, hire secretaries and go to moving pictures, I am going to keep my figure within the bounds of reason, or starve myself trying. Then, too, I should like to feel that other men are saying things about me like you said about Alberta at the dance the other night."

"So it's not all for me?" laughed Andrew.

"Oh, yes. You and the other men in our crowd."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1937

This is an uncertain day in planetary direction, according to astrology. It is especially unfavorable to the launching of any sort of enterprise.

Buying and selling should be with caution today, especially in transactions that may have a bearing on business in the new year.

Confused thinking and ill-directed action may be more common than usual, while this configuration continues. A sense of uncertainty may affect men and women who bear heavy responsibility.

Those who build materially rather than spiritually should benefit under this rule of the stars. Through the winter many constructive projects may be pushed.

Venus is strong in guidance and women should be fortunate in love as well as in business affairs. Warning is given that they may compete unfairly with men in commercial positions where they accept small wages.

Shortage of foodstuffs will be experienced in many parts of the world as the winter advances. In Spain and the Orient, famine will claim victims. Under-nourishment among the poor in large cities may be widespread.

Unrest among subjects of the King of England may be disturbing to the British government. Evil portents are seen in the conjunction of Saturn in Aries, Britain's ruling sign.

Tension caused by the Sino-Japanese situation may rise to a point where peril of entanglement with warlike movements is near. The new year should be started with the wisest international policies.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes. For many there may be travel and removals, while romance may concern others.

Children born on this day probably will be able to make life pleasant as well as profitable. Subjects of this sign usually are diplomatic and kindly in nature.

Newton D. Baker, onetime Secretary of War, was born on this day, 1871. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include George B. McClellan, Civil War general, 1826, and George Hutcheson Denny, university president, 1870.

SALT SPRING

GANGES — Ganges Women's Institute met in the Mahon Hall with Mrs. Charlesworth in the chair. Consideration was given to the project of forming classes for gymnastic and home economics for girls. A discussion was held as to the possibility of having a consolidated school at Ganges, and the meeting went on record as being solidly behind any scheme for the betterment of school conditions on the island.

The question of holding a separate exhibition of arts and crafts from women's institutes was discussed, the members finally voting in favor of holding one early in the coming year.

The annual dance of the Salt Spring Island platoon of the 16th Canadian Scottish was held in Mahon Hall, about 100 guests attending. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Hunt's Orchestra from Victoria. Prizes for the spot dance were won by Miss Daisy Evans and J. B. Foubister.

Progressive 500 was played in Fulford Hall under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association last Friday to raise funds for a Christmas party for the children of Isabella Point and Burgoyne Bay Schools.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. How can you courteously ask a person whose name you have forgotten to tell it to you?

2. Is it thoughtful to say "Don't you remember me?" to someone whom you have met but who obviously does not recall the introduction?

3. If the person to whom you are talking mispronounces a word is it good manners to pronounce it correctly in the next few minutes of your conversation?

4. When you are walking with a friend who stops for a moment to speak with someone you do not know, should you walk slowly on or wait for an introduction?

5. If you are not sure how to dress for a party, is it all right to ask your hostess?

What would you do if—

You are a girl and you have broken your engagement—

(a) Return your engagement ring and anything else of value given you by your fiance?

(b) Wait for your fiance to ask for whatever things he wants returned?

(c) Consider his gifts, including the engagement ring, your possessions and keep them if you wish?

1. "I'm sorry but for the moment I can't think of your name."
2. No.
3. No. Avoid using the word.
4. Walk on.
5. Yes.

Lord Clydesdale Married Today

EDINBURGH (CP)—The Marquess of Douglas and Cydesdale and Lady Elizabeth Percy, whose forefathers were bitter rivals in the days of raids over the border between England and Scotland, were married today in St. Giles Cathedral.

The Marquess led the aerial expedition which flew over the summit of Mount Everest in 1933. He is 34. His father, the Duke of Hamilton, is the premier Duke of Scotland.

Lady Elizabeth Percy was one of the Queens train-bearers at the Coronation. She is 21. Her mother is Mistress of Robes to the Queen and her brother is the Duke of Northumberland.

Seven Local Swimmers At Canadian Trials

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

IT SEEMS impossible that fate could deal Georgia Coleman, Olympic diving champion of 1932, so cruel a blow. It seems impossible that the girl whose happy disposition and unbounded vitality won her a place in the hearts of all she met, should be paralyzed from the hips down.

It is hard to picture Georgia, whose million-dollar smile endeared her to Victoria's aquatic public almost as much as her superlative prowess from a springboard, without any of those faculties that made her sport a wonder to watch. The ace girl diver of a year or two ago performed in the Crystal Garden in 1930 when she toured with Helene Madison and the New York Women's Swimming Association team, which included Eleanor Holm.

There may have been better women divers at some time or another, but there were none who imparted more virility, more drive and more power to the execution of their stunts than Georgia. There are few girls who will try the dives she has mastered, and there are lots of men who aspired to be divers and fell short of her repertoire.

Medical science may be wrong. Perhaps she will recover the use of her legs. If the fervent prayers of those who have had only a passing contact with her avail, she will be allowed to continue again the sport she loved and in the performance of which she gave so much pleasure.

Sport ramblings—Net receipts for all hockey games at Madison Square Garden in New York so far this season are $50,000 ahead of the same period during last season, a banner one. . . . Garden box office experts estimate Ching Johnson's debut with Amerks drew an extra $3,500 into the club's treasury. . . . Lorne Carr, great sniper of the Amerks from Calgary, is rated the best amateur photographer in the National Hockey League. . . .

Seventy-two puckmen, players and officials are registered at the Hotel Almanac in New York, and the wise birds call it "Little Canada." . . . If Burly Grimes trades Van Mungo during the baseball meetings (and he says he will if he can get a good enough offer) it won't be to the New York Giants. . . Those Brooklyn fans would insist on getting a whole pennant-winning club before they would stand for giving Van to the club across the river, and even then they wouldn't like it. . . .

Nobody knows where Bob Pastor is headed, but he is on his way . . . right out of the heavyweight fight picture. . . . So it was Pit Lepine, veteran of the Montreal Canadiens, who holds the N.H.L. record for fast scoring. . . . We always thought that grey-head could rattle them in with the best of the sharpshooters on the steel blades.

Hoop Fixtures On This Evening

Another trio of basketball games will be staged tonight at the Esquimalt Athletic Association Hall, Fraser Street. At 7.30 Bob Whyte's Adverts will step onto the floor to engage the Esquimalt High School girls, while Chinese Students will battle the Esquimalt juniors. Esquimalt Seniors and Mount Tolmie C.C.F.'s will clash in the feature tilt.

Two games are scheduled for tomorrow night at the same hall when junior and senior squads of the Esquimalt district meets clubs yet to be selected. The first game will start at 8.

BUDGET FOR OLYMPICS

TOKIO (CP-Havas) — Japan's budget for the next fiscal year will include 750,000 yen (about $217,500) to be set aside for the 1940 Olympic Games, scheduled to be held in Tokio, it was understood today.

City's Stars Will Seek Berths For Empire Games Trip

Monica Trump, Breaststroke Ace, Will Head Squad For Event December 10-11

Stiff Competition

Seven of Victoria's star mermaids and mermen will make bids for places on the Canadian Empire Games swimming team when they compete in the Dominion trials to be held at Vancouver December 10 and 11. The games will be held in Australia in February.

The Capital City representative swim squad will include Monica Trump, Hazel Smith, Bobby Moss, Bob Doherty, Len Stark, Gordon Lawrence and Don Davidson.

Local swimming club tests held recently boiled the Victoria material down to these seven, representing one of the strongest squads to go out of the city in recent years. A number of the leading eastern swimmers left for the coast yesterday and are expected to arrive at Vancouver this week-end to begin their week of training prior to the trials.

The Victoria aggregation will not leave for Vancouver in a body, but are expected to be present in full force on the mainland by the middle of next week.

SMART TEAM

Headed by Monica Trump, regarded as one of the Dominion's top notchers in the women's breaststroke event, the Victorians should give a good account of themselves in the forthcoming trials. Miss Trump has been swimming for the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club for the last four years, and with her clubmate, Bobby Moss, will be the only representative of the V.A.S.C. in Vancouver. Moss has also been with the V.A.S.C. for the last four years, and with a wealth of experience gained in local competition, is a formidable freestyle competitor.

Y REPRESENTATIVES

Archie McKinnon's Y.M.C.A. club will make up the balance of the Capital City representatives His team will be headed by Don Davidson, rangy backstroke artist who has been flying the Y colors ever since he first donned a bathing suit. In outside competition Davidson has showed to decided advantage. In recent years he has been a close rival of Ed. Cline, Vancouver, and other leading mainland backstroke swimmers.

A junior star for many years, and still in that classification, Gordie Lawrence will represent Victoria in his specialties, the 400 and 1,650 yards freestyle events. Lawrence has been swimming with the Y for a number of years. He will be facing the strongest of senior competition at the trials.

STARK IMPROVING

In the 400 freestyle, husky Bob Doherty will compete for Victoria. His clubmate, Len Stark, is entered in the breaststroke events. According to coach McKinnon, Stark has been improving rapidly and should develop into one of the star swimmers of the province. The only girl representative on the association squad is Hazel Smith, who is regarded as good freestyle material. It is her first season with the Y.M.C.A. club.

Although not representing Victoria, Dot Andison, former Varsity star, will make the trip with the local squad. She has been training under McKinnon, but will represent Kelowna at the trials.

ENGLISH CUP SOCCER

TORONTO — Appointment of Lionel Conacher, Ontario Legislature member for Toronto Bracondale, to vice-chairmanship of the provincial athletic commission was announced last night by Premier Hepburn.

New Boucher Is Hockey Threat

Nephew of Rangers' Great Centre Stars in U.S. Amateur Loop

NEW YORK — They didn't break the mould when the hockey-gods fashioned Frankie Boucher. The last of the great Ranger crew that took Gotham by storm in 1926 has all but faded from the National Hockey League scene, but another Frankie Boucher will continue to roam the iceways.

It will be a few year before this new Frankie Boucher makes his name in hockey, but if he continues his present progress, he'll wear the Ranger blue some day. The kid hopes to carry on where his uncle soon will leave off.

"No, Frankie's not big enough yet," his uncle said, when discussing the big-time hopes of the kid who now plays with New York Rovers in the eastern United States amateur league. "The lad's only 19 and—well, he looks like his dad, George, but I guess he takes after me physically."

Hockey observers who have seen the 126-pound lad from Ottawa, are also convinced he takes after his Ranger namesake. They've noticed how he slides through the defence, avoiding numbing body checks.

Around the net the youngster most resembles the veteran. Young Frankie's feat last week with Westchester Rangers in the Metropolitan League, surpassed everything his uncle did in his brilliant amateur career.

Two goals in seven seconds, three in 1 minute and 35 seconds and four during the game—quite a feat in any class of hockey.

Women Jockeys in Keen Finish

Professional jockeys couldn't have made the finish more thrilling than the girls who rode in a special race for women riders on the closing day of the Pimlico, Md., race meeting. Two horses thunder past the finish line neck-and-neck, with Montoya, left, ridden by Betty West, first, and Trojan Racket, ridden by Maude Stevenson, runner-up.

Tiny Thompson Is Number One Goalie

Boston Custodian Seeks to Regain Honors as King of Major Hockey

Be it true or not that "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," Cecil (Tiny) Thompson evidently has his heart set on regaining the royal purple and the role of king of National Hockey League goaltenders.

Tiny, who guards the net for Boston Bruins, was only a pretender last year when Normie Smith of Detroit Red Wings won honors as the league's best backstop, but in 1935-36 he held undisputed possession of the crown.

And now it looks, with the N.H.L. season almost a month old, that Tiny's claims to kingship are going to be recognized, for Boston Bruins are undefeated after eight games and Tiny has only had 12 goals scored on him—the best record of any aspiring goalie.

COMPETITION KEEN

Of course, when a crown is at stake the competition is always keen and this case is no exception. Riding close to Tiny's heels are Earl Robertson of New York Americans, who has only let 13 pucks elude him, and Dave Kerr of New York Rangers, who has seen 14 slip by.

Two of these three stars will get into action tonight as league hostilities are resumed on two fronts. Boston will try to preserve its unbeaten record in playing at Montreal against Canadiens, while Rangers will go into the stronghold of Chicago Black Hawks.

Though Canadiens are resting at the bottom of the league's Canadian section and Bruins are far out in front of the United States division, the French team held Bruins to a 1 to 1 draw in their last meeting. The match is easily the highlight of the night's battling and a capacity crowd is expected at Montreal for the first time this season.

There are plenty of obstacles in the path of Canadiens, including Boston's famed young "baby line" of Bobby Bauer, Milt Schmidt and Porky Dumart, the dynamic Eddie Shore on the defence, but probably the greatest is Thompson—the man who would be king again.

Tacoma Cagers Play Saturday

Still clinging to their undefeated record for the season the Victoria Dominoes will tackle the Tacoma Wheeler-Osgood cage squad in another intercity basketball clash at the High Schol gym on Saturday evening. A preliminary will start at 8.

Art McLarney, former Pacific Coast Conference star, is manager of the Tacomans, and sends word he has a smart outfit.

Officials of the Dominoes completed arrangements this week for two exhibition games against Tucker's Bearded Aces here on January 14 and 15.

FINAL BASKET DECIDES GAME

Crescents Lose Hoop Tilt to Ramblers in Last-minute; Liberty Cafe Wins

Those game youngsters, who play under the colors of Wimpy's Crescents, had victory in their grasp but in the final 20 seconds it was rudely snatched away when Sonny Paterson's field shot whistled through the hoop to give the Ramblers a 25 to 24 decision at the final whistle. This game, an intermediate A boys' affair, highlighted the High School gym basketball programme last night.

First-half scoring was slow and after 10 minutes the score was tied 4 to 4. In the other 10 minutes of the session the Ramblers, Dominoes' farm team, outscored the Crescents to retire with a 15 to 11 lead at the interval. The Crescents started off in earnest after the rest and caught up with the Ramblers after seven minutes, when the score stood 15 to 15. From then on it was a close race.

The final game of the evening saw West Road go down to a smashing defeat at the hands of the league-leading Liberty Cafe squad, 44 to 17, in a senior B men's engagement. The Cafemen piled up 29 to 5 lead in the opening half.

Flashing real form, Gainers' Superiors sent Jack Taylor's Cardinals down to another one-sided defeat in a women's encounter that opened the show. The final score read: Gainers' Superiors 45, Cardinals 18.

Spencers In Fine Win Over Sailors

Gordie Bell Leads Club to Victory Over Wednesday Football Leaders

Defeat of the league-leading Navy eleven 5 to 0 by Spencer's at the Athletic Park, featured yesterday's Wednesday Football League programme. In the second match the Hudson's Bay scraped through to a 2 to 1 win over the Gorge Hotel at Beacon Hill.

The Navy are still in first place with a two-point margin over Spencers.

It was Gordie Bell, inside right and former Saturday League star, who really brought out the worth in Spencer's soccer squad yesterday afternoon. Not only did he contribute a pair of goals and play an all-round sterling game, but his presence with the forwards did miracles to that line—a line that heretofore was somewhat ragged. He appeared to give the line greater confidence, and before its withering attacks the Navy wilted and the Diamond "S" team raced on to a 5-to-0 triumph.

STIFF DEFENCE

It was the worst drubbing handed the sailors this season, also their first shutout. The naval brigade's big downfall was in the airtight defence maintained by Lloyd Cann and Dal Munroe. These two backs flashed real form, smashing attacks asunder with sure footwork.

Maybe the sailors sensed trouble at the outset, for the forward line was shuffled around when they took the field. But when they failed to make an impression in the first half the front-line men were placed back in their original positions for the final half, but even then they were unable to crash through for a goal.

The somewhat small turnout of fans was treated to one of the finest midweek soccer games seen here for some time, and enjoyed it to the limit. It was a fast game and good soccer was depicted. Spencers' combination, sparked by Bell, playing under the department store's colors for the first time, were a treat to watch.

Shorty Collins, inside left, turned in an excellent performance of ball manoeuvring and accounted for the other three goals.

Spencers got away to a fast breakaway during a stiff Navy offensive 24 minutes from the start, and following a pretty front-line movement, Collins sank the opening goal. Daryl Bissell crossed to Jeff Byatt and Collins added the finishing touches when Byatt handed the ball on to him. Keeping up the pressure, Spencers made things warm around the Navy posts, and six minutes later Art Chapman's high lob was taken by Byatt, on the left wing, who centred to in front of the goal, and Gordie Bell streaked in and piled the leather between the posts. With four minutes of the session left Bell secured a loose ball and ploughed it through a huddle in front of the posts to pick the corner of the net. This made the score read 3 to 0 at the interval.

SECOND HALF

In the second half the departmentals were more dangerous around the posts than the sailors, who for the most part were driven back by the defence before getting within scoring range. When they did, which was seldom, Goalie Norm Stewardson handled the shots nicely. Shorty Collins made it 4 to 0, 10 minutes after the change-over, with a first-timer, and at the 35-minute mark he finished the scoring. Bell's bullet drive was averted spectacularly by Goalie Louis DeCosta but Collins dashed in and toed the leather into the hemp, while the net-minder was still on the ground. Except for the last attempt DeCosta had little chance to stop the other goals.

Percy Shrimpton refereed.

The teams were:

Spencers — Stewardson, Cann, Bissell, L. Bradley, Raeside, Munro, Brown, Bell, Chapman, Collins and Byatt.

Navy — L. DeCosta, Kennedy, Cockrill, Marr, Robinson, Gagnon, E. DeCosta, Ross, Geddes, W. DeCosta, Walker and Dovey.

Bank On Diet For Peden Win

Trainer Sees Victory for Victoria Riders if Lettuce Holds Out

NEW YORK—Provided there is plenty of head lettuce and sugar in the Madison Square Garden restaurant, nothing can keep the pedalling Pedens from winning the six-day bike race now in progress, thinks Fred White of Toronto, their enthusiastic trainer.

Torchy and Doug just love plenty of sugar on their lettuce, which they crunch by way of desert after their regular ration of double steaks, spinach and green beans. All White asks is that the lettuce supply holds out to Saturday night, when the grind closes.

The Victoria pair, weighing 422 pounds between them, are the heaviest team in the classy international field. Only 21 and tipping the scales at 200, Doug is the youngest of the riders, while Brother Torchy is among the veterans at 31.

One of the outstanding brother combinations in sport, the Pedens of the pineboards are both single. They don't intend to settle down until they have seen more of the world, especially Australia, where they expect the next boom in the bike sport.

Scots' Curlers To Tour Canada

TORONTO—The roaring game of curling will see a lot of international competition this winter. A group of Scottish curlers is coming to Canada for a tour that will take it as far west as Calgary and into the United States for a couple of matches.

The invaders arrive at Halifax December 31.

HEAVIES TO BATTLE HERE

Dave Johnston and Abe Yourist Secured For Saturday Mat Card

Dave Johnston, who hails from Chicago, will return to local wrestling circles Saturday night to take on Abe Yourist from New York in the semi-main go at the Tillicum gym.

Johnston has proven himself quite an artist at the game, and should be able to make things interesting for Yourist, who is well-liked by local followers. The New Yorker is a clean wrestler. They will fight over the five 10-minute round route.

The main bout of the evening will bring together La Verne Baxter, Washington, D.C., grappler, and Hal Rumberg, Spokane.

A special event and local preliminary will round out the card, which will open at 8.45.

Giants and Cubs Hot After Mungo

New York and Chicago Clubs Offer Plenty For Brooklyn Pitching Ace

MILWAUKEE — Van Lingle Mungo, the pitching truant who caused Burleigh Grimes most of his headaches last season in Brooklyn, was the big headache man of the major-minor league ivory mart today.

Every National League club, notably the New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs, wanted to get the temperamental chucker from Dixie but Manager Grimes, getting his first chance to do the talking in a deal, held out for very high stakes. As a result, the entire player market was clogged and almost listless except for some American and minor league action.

Col. William Harold Terry was reported to have offered Pitcher Hal Schumacher, Catcher Gus Mancuso, Outfielder Hank Leiber, First Baseman John McCarthy and a good chunk of Owner Horace Stoneham's cash for Mungo and First Baseman Buddy Hassett.

The Cubs' best offer, grapevine information said, was First Baseman Rip Collins, Outfielder Tuck Stainback, Pitcher Clay Bryant and cash for Mungo. Grimes wanted Frank Demaree from the Cubs or Catcher Harry Danning from the Giants to boot and it was no go.

Only one strictly major league swap was made. That was a swap of Pitcher Ed Linke by Washington to the St. Louis Browns for Elon Hogsett, veteran southpaw. And nobody except Hogsett and Linke got very excited about that piece of business.

Selma Reyes Named Orchestra Leader

The orchestra of the Victoria Choral and Orchestral Union, which will play in the "Messiah" at Christ Church Cathedral, next Wednesday evening has been strengthened by the appointment of Miss Selma Reyes as leader. Miss Reyes has devoted much time this winter to the string section, and the players have benefited by her advice and assistance.

This appointment is a step in the Union's attempt to attain perfection in the performance of the "Messiah." Each successive year, as players and singers become more and more familiar with the work, it is hoped to advance a step nearer the goal.

Miss Reyes has appeared on the concert platform since the age of ten, and was principal soloist with orchestra at 16. She was a student at the Conservatoire de Bruxelles; Maitre Alfred Marchot; and for two years worked under Carl Flesch in Berlin. She has appeared in recitals and has broadcast in London, Australia, Canada, India and the United States.

A human being has 20 bones in his skull; a codfish has 68.

"I run a service station—get a decent living income and have a wife and two kids. The kind of life insurance that will support my family always seemed beyond my reach. But this Life Preferred Policy guarantees them $50 a month for 10 years if anything should happen to me. And if I live to age 65—and I sure hope I do—I'll get a regular income for the rest of my life. And besides that, I get dividends annually, for this is a profit-sharing plan."

If you are in good health and can afford *25 cents a day, you can provide this protection for your family.

Securities Law Is Protection

Lengthy Debate Continued in House on New Stock Control Bill

Protection of the public from high-pressure salesmanship of stocks is one of the important points in the new B.C. Securities Law, Attorney-General Wismer told the Legislature yesterday when the bill was nearly completed for third reading.

The House debated the 35 sections of the bill one after the other for two hours, and still had one or two sections to deal with at the finish.

Mr. Wismer told H. G. Perry, Liberal, Fort George, that a clause requiring the operators to notify the superintendent of brokers of any material change in the financial or physical nature of a property would apply only to mines which were on the market. The information would not be published unless it was in the public interest. Mr. Wismer said he did not think it would work hardship on anyone.

G. M. Murray, Liberal, Lillooet, approved the section, saying it might prevent expenditure of public money on mining trails to property which had stopped work.

A new section gives the government power to seize documents and records in a broker's or mine owner's office without a search warrant. Mr. Wismer said this was important for carrying out investigations of fraudulent schemes. He admitted it was a wide power, but would be used with discretion.

Another important new clause, he said, would prevent any company under investigation from disposing of its assets or records.

Mr. Wismer explained at length a clause preventing house-to-house canvassing for sale of securities.

"We have had some objections to this from brokers who say it would make it difficult for them to get investments," he said. "But we have had cases where widows and others with small amounts of money have been persuaded to invest in highly speculative enterprises when they should not, and have lost their money."

Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, Conservative, the Islands, said it would be hard to enforce such a regulation and this would bring the law into disrepute.

Mr. Wismer said the plan had been enforced successfully in other provinces. Mr. Perry said many more people were swindled playing the stock market directly than any who had purchased securities at their doors. He could see no protection in the statute, and believed it would halt some worthwhile projects.

"But this certainly protects the average person from investing more than he can afford," said Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver.

Mr. Wismer told Capt. Macintosh this would not stop sale to a personal friend in his home or to a regular client.

J. Howard Forester, Liberal, Burrard, a member of the Vancouver Stock Exchange committee, said several members of the exchange had house-to-house canvassers, but he was not opposing the clause.

The Attorney-General explained the government would have power under the law to exempt some canvassers if necessary.

"Fifty per cent of householders have no sales resistance. I'm sorry, but it's a fact," said Thomas King, Liberal, Columbia. "This section is needed to protect them from themselves."

Mr. Wismer said the plan had not hindered mining development in Ontario.

"We don't want a salesman to get some poor man or woman around the fire and take away all they have," said Mr. Wismer.

Dr. Telford said the clause would give people more faith in B.C. mining. In Ontario, mining had gone ahead because the rules were strict.

Another section is designed to halt advertising which offered a man a job if he would put money into a company. Mr. Murray said all mine boosting stories should be handled strictly as advertising.

Kipling Society Planning Dinner

Arrangements were made for the annual dinner of the Kipling Society at the monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Simmons. The dinner will be held on December 30, the anniversary of Kipling's birthday, and will be followed by a programme of Kipling songs and recitations. James McGrath and P. R. Leighton were appointed to arrange the programme.

The society plan to hold a Kipling concert in the new year.

The president, A. E. G. Cornwell drew the members attention to the Kipling memorial fund now being launched in England, the aim of the fund being to establish the Kipling Foundation to create 50 bursaries for boys who are sons of servants of the Empire at Kipling's old school, the Imperial Service College now established at Windsor, and also to build a memorial library of Kipling's writings at the college. Two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollors has already been subscribed to the objective of $1,250,000.

The delightful poem, "Mulholland's Contract," was read by Mrs. A. Wiles. Mrs. W. J. Neal read a short paper on the historical background of Kipling's story, "Proofs of Holy Writ," and James McGrath read Kipling's "Ballad of the Bolivar."

To Send Delegates To College Parley

Victoria College will be represented by three delegates at the conference of Canadian University students to be held in Winnipeg from December 27 to 31. They will be selected by the faculty and the students' council.

Topics to be discussed at the conference will pertain to national and international affairs in relation to the student.

On Saturday afternoon a tea will be held from 4 to 6 at Victoria College to raise funds to send the delegates to the conference. The project is supported by the University Women's Club and an invitation is extended to all members and their friends as well as to the parents and friends of the students.

COBBLE HILL

Cobble Hill—Cobble Hill High School staged its annual concert in the Cobble Hill Hall last Friday.

The programme was directed by the school principal, J. M. Thomas. The concert opened with community singing, Mrs. H. G. Grainger being the accompanist, other items being as follows: Vocal duet, Frances Moulton and Betty Allen; piano duet, Julia Smith and Rita Weber; girls' chorus, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "The Bells of Aberdovy"; boys' class, physical exercises and pyramids; girls' class, club swinging; piano solo, Rita Weber; play, "A Night in the Trojan War," Philip LaFortune, David Allen, Charles Page and Dave Bell.

Pensions Now For Divorced Wives

If Destitute With Children May Get Provincial Help

Divorced wives and widows with children, who are destitute, will be able to get mothers' pensions under a bill given third reading in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday afternoon.

No objections were raised to the measure, but Herbert Anscomb, Conservative, Victoria, asked whether the government, when granting an allowance to a divorced woman, would attempt to collect from her ex-husband toward her support.

"But she is no longer his wife. He may be married again by that time," said Attorney General Wismer.

"Well, I don't see why we should have to pay for someone else's wife because they disagreed," said Mr. Anscomb. "I don't care if you change the marriage laws to let every man have two wives, but I'm not going to pay for someone else's."

Dr. Weir pointed out that the court which granted a divorce decided that matter by establishing whether a wife should have alimony. The pension, he explained, would only be given where a divorced wife was destitute and had children to support.

Approve Plan Of Immigration

A special committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday urged upon directors endorsement of the Hornby migration plan which provides for selective immigration from Great Britain in units with provisions made for the settlers for five years by funds from the Old Country. Directors adopted the recommendation and will notify provincial and federal authorities of their action.

F. A. Pauline, former Agent-General in London, as chairman of the committee, reported the province had approved the plan, and would provide suitable land, although no financial aid could be given. The scheme would tend towards greater Empire unity and would benefit British Columbia, he said.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

DECEMBER 2, 192.
(From the Times files)

The new Hillside line of the B.C.E. Railway was opened for business this morning and a 15-minute service will continue until further notice.

The annual meeting of the Victoria branch of the Royal Life Saving Society on Saturday afternoon was made noteworthy by the presentation of the plans for the proposed swimming pool by Mayor Beckwith. These plans show a pool 60 feet by 100 feet, and all the necessary accommodation. It is intended to submit a by-law in January on this subject.

For the first time in the history of the B.C.E. Railway activity in Victoria, over 1,000,000 passengers have been carried on city cars in one month. During the 30 days of November, the actual number of people who paid for transportation on B.C.E.R. cars was 1,021,847.

At the Natural History Society's meeting this evening, Dr. Tomlin will speak on "The Value of Birds as Insect Destroyers," and F. Napier Denison will give a short talk on "Local Earthquakes."

Fresh from the command of the Montreal district, Colonel Alexander Roy came to the city Saturday afternoon and will, this week, assume command of the 11th Military District, which includes British Columbia and the Yukon Territory.

U.S. VISITORS STILL COMING

Although the city's tourist season is over, there are still a few names from the other side of the border on the register of the Empress Hotel each morning.

Yesterday the list carried the names of Mrs. J. Perrault, Boise, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Berger, Eastbrook, Colo.; R. L. Owen, Santa Monica, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McClintock, Hollywood.

Prominent among the British Columbians who registered at the Empress yesterday and this morning were Mayor George C. Miller of Vancouver, Colonel Victor Spencer, Vancouver, and C. W. Lonsdale, principal of Shawnigan Lake School.

Beverley Hotel Changes Hands

J. A. Griffith Takes Over City Building at Price of $60,000

Purchase of the Beverley Hotel by James A. Griffith, for many years a real estate and insurance broker here, for the sum of $60,000, was announced yesterday by Mr. Griffith.

The building, a six-story structure at 724 Yates Street, was bought from Sydney J. Haskell Built in 1911 at a cost of $125,000, the structure includes five floors of hotel accommodation and two stores on the lower floor It was originally put up for the Challoner and Mitchell interests.

For many years Mr. Griffith has operated the hotel and recently retired from his other fields of activity to devote his entire time to its management.

Pearson Hits Mine Gambling

Minister of Mines Says People Might Just As Well Go To Horse Races

"There is too much gambling in mines in British Columbia," Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, said in the Legislature yesterday afternoon when the amendments to the Securities Act were under discussion.

"I don't know how you're going to stop this gambling unless you do as I do and don't gamble," he said. "Gambling is economically unsound, and mining is tied up too much with the gambling instinct. I'm interested more in putting money into the ground, to promote development.

He said there was plenty of capital for the development of mining properties, without people rushing in and gambling their savings.

"Mr. Pearson has put up a very excellent argument for government ownership of our natural resources," Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, said.

FIRE IN ELEVATOR

TORONTO (CP)—Passengers escaped from an elevator in a downtown building Wednesday just before flames broke through the floor of the lift. The fire was believed to have started when a cigarette butt lighted debris at the bottom of the shaft and flames spread up a grease-smeared cable.

Using a hypodermic syringe, an entomologist is able to inject extremely tiny doses of poisoned foods into codling moth caterpillars, directly into the digestive tract, and thus he can test more accurately the effectiveness of various poison baits.

Potao Grading By New System

The day when potatoes would be graded and sold according to their dry matter and food value, instead of by weight, as at present, was foreseen by Dr. William Newton, superintendent of the Dominion Government's Experimental Farm at Bazan Bay, when he spoke to the agricultural committee of the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Potatoes could be graded for their food value by weighing them in water, Dr. Newton said, as he gave a demonstration of such a process, which is now in the experimentation stage at the government station.

He showed that potatoes, grown in different districts of British Columbia, varied greatly in food value.

Insurance Bill Before House

A bill amending the British Columbia Insurance Act, designed to bring it in line with uniform insurance legislation across Canada, was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

It provides that insurers must file statistics of premiums, losses and expenses with the superintendent of insurance on the basis he desires. Power is given the superintendent to have an accountant audit a firm's books if he does not like the way they keep their records, and the insurer must pay expenses up to $15 a day. Access to books must be given the superintendent at all reasonable times.

Another clause provides that when a foreign name is used in a title of an insurance firm the license may be issued in the English translation.

Masseurs to Come Under B.C. Control

A bill to amend the Naturopathic Physicians Act was introduced in the B.C. Legislature yesterday by C. H. Tupper, Liberal, Similkameen.

It brings physiotherapists and masseurs under control along with other naturopathic physicians.

Such healers are prevented from giving treatments except under the prescription of legally qualified physicians and they are not permitted to attempt an adjustment of bones. The designations of masseur and physiotherapist are given.

Rare Owl Makes Visit To City

Teachers and children of Sir James Douglas School yesterday were entertained for some time during the afternoon watching a rare white owl which perched most of the day in a tree on the school grounds.

First attention was attracted to the rare visitor by the squawks of crows in the trees and in a few minutes the white visitor, commonly known as a "Hudson's Bay" owl, was seen. It sat motionless in the tree for about two hours, after which it took off and flew south.

For a time, while there was a story around about a $50 bounty for white owls, the children tried hard to bring the owl down by hurling stones, but their efforts were unsuccessful.

This was just as well, as there is no cash reward for owls.

JUDGMENTS ON APPEALS GIVEN

Judgments on two appeals heard by the Court of Appeal during its last Victoria sitting were received at the courthouse here today.

The crown's appeals against Low Kee and Wong Kit Chov, who were tried by Mr. Justice Manson under the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act, was allowed, the order in the court below set aside and the prisoners ordered arrested and delivered to the Immigration Department for deportation.

The corporation of North Vancouver lost its appeal against the Whitehead dependents in the case in which the Whiteheads had been awarded damages following a fatal accident in which a car fell from a ferry slip into the water. The Chief Justice would have granted a new trial because of misdirection and nondirection amounting to misdirection, while Mr. Justice Sloan would have allowed the appeal and dismissed the order.

Technocracy Inc., will present two films in the boardroom, 118 Pemberton Building, tonight, one of the Ford Company plants and the other showing the advancement in the manufacture of the motor car.

Dr. Telford Wants Board Chairman to Appear Before Committee

Tempers flared slightly at the Legislature's public accounts committee meeting this morning when Dr. J. Lyle Telford, C.C.F., Vancouver East, asked why there was delay in answering his request to see the purchase prices of liquors sold in this province.

E. T. Kenney, chairman, assured him there had been only a misunderstanding and that what he asked for would be produced at the next meeting.

"I don't want you to go out of here feeling we wouldn't bring the witnesses you wanted," Mr. Kenney said.

Dr. Telford suggested that W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, be requested to attend a meeting. He said he had been assured there would be someone from the Liquor Board at this morning's meeting.

"I want an explanation of the discrepancies I have found," said Dr. Telford.

At the suggestion of the Attorney-General, Dr. Telford agreed to make his request regarding purchase prices to the Liquor Board in writing on the understanding he would have an explanation at the next meeting.

R. L. Maitland, Conservative, Vancouver-Point Grey, said he was handicapped until the Speaker ruled on his resolution asking the permission of the Legislature for the public accounts committee to see public expenditures to date, instead of only to the end of March, when public accounts for the year closed. Mr. Maitland's resolution was ruled out of order and the Speaker reserved his decision.

"I suppose either the House or the Speaker will expire before I get my answer," Mr. Maitland said, before he went into consultation with Dr. Allon Peebles, chairman of the Health Insurance Commission regarding the commission's expenses.

SEEK AID ON UNIVERSITY

Overcrowding Creates Serious Problem at U.B.C.

The provincial cabinet today was asked what it could do to solve the overcrowding situation at the University of British Columbia.

A delegation consisting of Dr L. S. Klinck, president; Dr. R. E. McKechnie, chancellor, and Brigadier-General Victor W. Odlum of the board of governors met the government and frankly outlined the situation.

The university, they pointed out, was built to accommodate 1,500 students. There are now 2,500 registered, and as many as 2,000 must be handled at one time. In some classes the students have to stand up. In the applied science department they have not enough equipment for the students taking the course.

Two courses were open, the delegation said; either more accommodation must be provided or the university would have to start next year curtailing the attendance.

The government did not give an immediate answer, but promised to consider the problem.

A call has just been received by W. H. Davies, local treasurer of the Save the Children Fund, requesting funds to help Chinese children who are suffering through the war in their country. Contributions to the cause will be received and acknowledged by Mr. Davies, 1008 Broad Street.

With the use of a new rapid developer it is now possible to take newsreel pictures in Victoria during the morning and show them in local theatres in the afternoon. Kenneth J. Bishop, president of Central Films, has informed directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Bishop said his firm was now using one of these developers in its modern studio at the Willows. Members of the directorate commented that the news was encouraging and indicated the local studio was keeping pace with all new developments in movie production.

The first concert of a series of free entertainments during the winter months was held last night in the Citizens' Recreation Rooms. Frank Merryfield, who arranged the programme, performed a number of tricks of magic, finally releasing himself from a straight jacket in three minutes. Others contributing included T. Lavery, Len Foster, Ray Hunt and S. Fieldhouse. Cecil Heaton contributed piano solos, and acted as accompanist. Community singing was led by A. H. Hundleby, who acted as chairman.

The other machine was driven by John F. W. Moore, who estimated Harding's speed at well over 30 miles an hour.

At a meeting of the Naval Veterans' Branch Yuletide entertainment committee last night it was decided to hold a Christmas smoking concert for members in the clubrooms on December 21, while the unit's annual Christmas tree will be held on December 23 in the K. of P. Hall for children of members. Photo slides will be shown at the clubrooms tomorrow night, starting at 8. The slides will cover H.M.C.S. NO CITY LOT SIZE KNOWN

Says Fred Butterfield in Speaking on Surveying Before Rotary Club

No one can tell the size of a single lot in the centre of Victoria, according to Fred Butterfield.

Speaking before the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel this afternoon, Mr. Butterfield said there was "a shameful disregard for the preservation of (survey) points in the city."

With markers gone no real measurement of buildings could be made as sidewalks crept four and five inches in a few years due to expansion of the concrete.

Mr. Butterfield suggested that the situation could be overcome by passing a special survey act but this was a juggernaut of legislation.

Another solution would be to set up certain governing points of rock or concrete which could not be destroyed and tie everything else to them.

Mr. Butterfield posed a riddle for the Rotarians.

"Who owns survey points?" he asked. "If you can answer that you're a better man than I am."

He reminisced of surveying days in the woods on Vancouver Island and in the northern parts of British Columbia.

Before the war surveying was tough. For months surveyors literally did not known what dry clothes felt like and slept in wet blankets.

Mr. Butterfield spoke of the difficulty of cooking out in the open. It was a common practice for a cook to take his bread to bed with him to keep it warm.

George Alexander read a paper by Ken McCanel on Newfoundland. The flag of the colony had a red field with the Union Jack in one corner and a circular badge in the other. The badge showed Mercury introducing Britannia to a kneeling sailor who had just stepped from a boat.

Newfoundland was three and a half times the size of Vancouver Island and had a population of 290,000 people. Labrador, which also belonged to it, was two-thirds the size of British Columbia, but had only 4,000 population.

Captain T. J. Goodlake, president of the club, was in the chair.

MAY CHANGE MINES BILL

With prospectors in several parts of the province protesting the government's proposed changes in the Mineral Act and repeal of the Mineral Survey Act, the legislation ran into fire in the Liberal caucus last night, and may be modified before it proceeds further in the House, it was reported today.

In what particulars the government was prepared to modify the legislation was not indicated today. Yesterday the B.C. Chamber of Mines sent a letter to Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, on behalf of a number of prospectors, urging that district mining engineers be continued and the Mineral Survey Act kept in force, and several other technical points in the law.

NELSON—Eastern British Columbia mining associations watched Victoria today for the effect of their protests to the provincial government against any changes in the Mineral Survey Act.

Telegrams of protest against changes in the act have been sent to Premier Pattullo, Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, and Frank Putnam, member for Nelson-Creston, by the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia and the Prospectors' Protective Association of B.C.

It is also planned to send letters to members of the House mining committee.

Prospectors asserted proposed new regulations "would put a brake on prospecting."

In a reply to the telegram, the Minister of Mines told the Eastern British Columbia associations that "our experience shows great need for changes," and that proper consideration would show the government was working in the interests of "real" prospectors.

Chicago (CP) — The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition here sold at auction today for $2.35 a pound, 65 cents below the bid on his three immediate predecessors.

Ashborne Organe, the roan purebred shorthorn which won the title, weighed 1,110 pounds at the sale and brought $2,608.50 to his owners, Oklahoma A. and M. College. The champion was five pounds below those weight when judged by Alexander Ritchie of Windsor, England.

Given Damages For Ejection

Damages of $10 to William King Gwyer and of $15 to Mary Sibil Gwyer, with costs on the County Court scale were awarded by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson in Supreme Court here yesterday at the conclusion of the claim by the Gwyers against H. Goodman.

Plaintiffs claim they were ejected from an Esquimalt dwelling on February 12 of this year by the defendant who had purchased the property from Doris Brock, landlady of the Gwyers, who rented the premises on a month-to-month basis.

C. Harald Tait represented the plaintiffs and Stuart Henderson the defendant.

TOLMIE RELICS GO TO MUSEUM

Valued Dining-room Suite and Old Griddle Acquired By Government

One of the most interesting collections of antiques in a British Columbia home will be put up for public auction next week when property at "Cloverdale," the residence of the late Dr. S. F. Tolmie, will be sold.

Because of the historical value of several of the antiques in the home, some have been acquired by the Provincial Museum. Others will be returned to their original sites.

The well-known set of Georgian dining-room furniture, including a mahogany table and six chairs, which was used in Bachelor's Hall in Fort Victoria, is among the most interesting of the pieces acquired by the government.

Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial archivist, announced also that an old half-bushel Hudson's Bay measure had been received, also the griddle which hung for years in the Tolmie kitchen, which was made from metal of the first boiler of the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer Beaver.

The Tolmie branding iron and a mirror which hung in the original Fort Vancouver, at Vancouver, Wash., are among other interesting articles which will be placed on view next Tuesday and Wednesday. The sale will take place on December 9, 10 and 11.

C.C.F. Seeking To Test Rights

New Resolution Would Force Revision of Legislature Rules

With a fresh resolution designed to test their rights in the House, the C.C.F. opposition in the Legislature today moved against the government's ruling that most of their motions are out of order.

In the session so far many of the C.C.F. resolutions have been ruled out, despite all their efforts to word them so as they would not run up against the Speaker's rulings. They have protested that if the government takes exception to all their motions in this fashion, their entire sessional programme will collapse.

The new resolution, in the name of Harold Winch, C.C.F. whip, Vancouver East, asks the House to consider ways and means of changing the rules, orders and form of procedure.

It cites such authorities on procedure as May, Todd, and various former Speakers of the assembly to show that the House is entitled to express an opinion on almost any point so long as it advises, but does not instruct the government to do anything.

Most of the C.C.F. motions ruled out so far have been on the ground that they would force the government into public expenditure, which is strictly the crown's prerogative, and cannot be moved by a private member.

Bellingham News Is Again Publishing

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP)—The Bellingham Evening News, closed six months because of a strike of the local unit of the American Newspaper Guild, resumed publication today.

A picket line of six gathered early in the morning, but it was ignored by the printers, pressmen and editorial workers. Later it grew to about 20, consisting of guild members and volunteers. There were no disturbances.

Aside from reporters, all new, the paper was manned by the old employees.

Russian Aviator Gives Six Missing Men Up For Dead

MOSCOW (AP) — Sigismund Levaneffsy and five companions who vanished last August 13 on a trans-Polar flight from Moscow toward Alaska and the United States were given up for dead today by Mihail Vodopyanoff, Russian Arctic flier.

On his return from an extended search of the icy wastes in which the Levaneffsky plane disappeared, he said four search planes, under command of Ivan Chuknovsky, were remaining at Rudolphr Island to hunt for plane wreckage as soon as conditions are favorable.

Franco-Manchukuo Recognition Event

TOKIO (CP-Havas) — Manchukuo and the Spanish insurgent government Thursday exchanged notes of mutual recognition providing for the establishment of regular diplomatic relations.

Yuan Chen-tuo, representing the Manchukuo ambassador to Japan, and F. J. del Castillo, Spanish insurgent charge d'affaires here, met at the Japanese Foreign Office for the formal exchange of notes.

The step represented a further stage in the strengthening of relations among the countries linked to the Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis. There remains German recognition of Manchukuo, which is expected here.

Service Stations In Wage Argument

SEATLE (AP) — The Central Labor Council Wednesday night declared the Richfield Oil Corporation and all Seattle and King County service stations leased from Richfield "unfair," bringing the long-standing labor union dispute with service stations and storage garages here to a crisis.

Nine other service stations and 30 storage garages, handling products of nearly all the major oil companies, were asked fo send representatives before a special meeting of the council's executive board tomorrow to show why they should not also be declared "unfair."

The union is demanding its wage scale be paid by the operators.

"100 MEN AND A GIRL," ATLAS

Deanna Durbin Terms Her Co-stars "Three Smart Men"

A great deal of friendly banter is exchanged on a movie set. Deanna Durbin, star of Universal's "100 Men and a Girl," which opened at the Atlas Theatre today, received a considerable amount of kindly teasing and registered a few gentle bits of fun herself. Reminiscent of her last film, "Three Smart Girls," she called Leopold Stokowski, Adolphe Menjou and Mischa Auer "three smart men." Whenever Menjou or Mischa joshed her, she would just say "three smart men," and then begin to sing "Three Wise Men From Gotham."

Mischa Auer has portrayed a non-musical musician in four pictures. He mangles a flute, trounces a tuba and pulverizes a piano in Universal's "100 Men and a Girl," was an acrobatic pianist in "My Man Godfrey," and a piano accompanist in "I Dream Too Much" and Mischa, the melody lingers on.

COMEDY KINGS SHOW GENIUS

Laurel and Hardy in "Our Relations," Screened at Columbia

"Our Relations," suggested by W. W. Jacobs's internationally-known story, "The Money Box," gives Laurel and Hardy their greatest opportunity to exploit their specialized screen genius which has so highly entertained the world for the last ten years. The new picture, a Stan Laurel production, is currently showing at the Columbia Theatre.

First as respectable residents of a quiet seaport town, living a sedate life with their wives; then as their twin sailor brothers, reported to have been hanged for joining in a mutiny, and finally doubly being flashed on the screen, Laural and Hardy in "Our Relations" keeps its audience in constant expectation of the stirring and funny adventures that beset them.

"THE BARRIER" AT DOMINION

Rex Beach's "The Barrier" opens at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. The cast, which does so much to make it a memorable picture, is headed by Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker, James Ellison, Otto Kruger, Robert Barrat, Andy Clyde and Sara Haden. Carrillo has one of the finest roles of his picture career as Poleon the sturdy and loyal French-Canadian trapper who is possessed by an inarticulate love for Miss Parker, while Kruger and Barrat both are superb in their character parts. Kruger is the suave villain of the film while Barrat is Miss Parker's father.

The scenic grandeur of the Canadian north woods background has been magnificently captured by Cameraman George Barnes and Director Les Selander.

IRENE DUNNE IS HIGHLIGHT

Deft Clowning By Comedienne in "The Awful Truth" at Capitol

Irene Dunne, screen comedienne, scores in the year's choicest comedy role as Lucy Warriner, in Columbia's "The Awful Truth," which opened today at the Capitol Theatre. Irene merely scratched the surface of her comedy capabilities in "Theodora Goes Wild." It remained for her hilarious clowning in "The Awful Truth" to reveal the treasure-trove of talent in her inimitable personality.

This gay, madcap story of the Warriners, played by Miss Dunne as Lucy and Cary Grant as Jerry, is so uproariously funny it should make the annual 10 best.

Irene and Cary, teamed for the first time, are superb. Ralph Bellamy gives a deliciously hillbilly flavor to his Oklahoma oil tycoon. The veteran Cecil Cunningham plays Miss Dunne's dour Aunt Patsy. Alexander D'Arcy is excellently romantic as the French vocal teacher.

"The Awful Truth" is handsomely mounted. No less important than all these qualities is the finished direction by Leo McCarey.

TIMBER STORY FILMED HERE

"Fury and the Woman" Showing at Oak Bay Theatre

Splendid acting, a convincing story and the magnificent scenery of Vancouver Island forests make up the locally produced feature picture, "Fury and the Woman," which opened today at the Oak Bay Theatre for a six-day run. Produced by the Central Films Limited, the picture deals with the stirring conflict of two lumber companies, a bitter feud springing up as each fights for control of virgin timberlands. Authentic details, possible only when a film is made in the genuine atmosphere of the world it portrays, show the life of the "big timber" logger as it really is. Over 300 local men were called in to make up the sequences.

William Gargan, known and loved in a dozen different roles, carves a new niche for himself as the tenderfoot who, thrown into the midst of crooks proves that he is not as green as the ingleaders might wish. Molly Lamont, as his chief's daughter, carries the feminine lead. Featured in the supporting cast is Reginald Hincks and James McGrath.

"Maedchen in Uniform" is on the same bill of entertainment.

Kreutzberg Is Unique Dancer

Popular Idol of Europe at Royal Tomorrow

Harald Kreutzberg, who will appear tomorrow night at Royal Victoria Theatre, ranks high amongst the greatest dancers of all times, and has earned the reputation of being the most popular idol in Europe today.

Although an Austrian by birth, his dancing is internationally famous, and he is this year making his tenth coast to coast American tour. After playing in New York three weeks ago before sold out houses and wildly enthusiastic audiences, Kreutzberg will appear here tomorrow for the first time.

Amongst present day dancers Kreutzberg is unique. Action is prevalent in all his dances, which range from light fantasy, sparkling humor and clever satire to magnificently dramatic interpretations. In the majority of his dances gaiety is the key note, and sheer entertainment is the only manner in which to describe his performances.

German science has developed improved alloys of noble metal for use in dentistry, and also for fountain pens and other articles.

MAY COMPLETE MOVIE TODAY

"Face Work" Will Go Into Production at Willows Monday

If there are no hitches "The Devil in Ermine," 11th motion picture to be made in Victoria by Central Films Limited, may be finished by tonight, Kenneth J. Bishop, president of the company, said this morning.

Cast and production crew were busy until 2 this morning at an auto camp on the Gorge Road rounding off their outdoor production schedule. There are now only a few interior sequences to be shot in the studio in the Willows Industrial Building.

"Face Work," the company's 12th picture, will go into production on Monday morning, Mr. Bishop said.

The new picture is of a different type from "The Devil in Ermine," story of fur smuggling at the Canadian-United States border.

"Face Work" will have much the same cast as the picture now being completed, but with the addition of two Hollywood performers who have already acted in Central Films productions. Phyllis Claire and Mark Lawrence are expected here shortly to join Rita Hayworth, Charles Quigley, Edgar Edwards, John Spacey and the others.

The new picture will have the same technical crew, with George R. Caddle as unit manager; Leon Barsha, director; George Rhein, assistant director; George Meehan, cameraman, and Gary Harris, sound man.

"Face Work" is expected to be completed in a little over two weeks.

Labor Leaders In Conference

Lewis and Green Explore Way to Peace in Washington Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis and William Green recessed their dramatic peace conference until 4 this afternoon without arriving at any conclusions.

"We have taken a recess," Lewis shouted to newsmen after his two and a half-hour conference with Green. "All we had was general conversation. No conclusions reached."

Green, who followed Lewis out of the conference room, said:

"We had an interesting discussion, but we have nothing more to say now."

Organized labor in the United States is staking its hopes for peace and unity on the conference between the two one-time miners who now divide the leadership of some 7,000,000 union members.

Lewis is chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and Green is president of the American Federation of Labor.

Shaw Urges Duke Soon Visit the U.S.

Writer Says British Ex-King and Wife Should Cross Atlantic

LONDON (AP)—George Bernard Shaw today urged the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to visit the United States.

Their indefinitely postponed trip, the veteran dramatist wrote in the Glasgow Socialist newspaper Forward: "Would have been enormously useful to us both diplomatically and commercially."

Mr. Shaw expressed regret the visit as planned for last month was "mixed up" with Charles E. Bedaux, the industrial engineer whom the Baltimore Federation of Labor called an "arch enemy" of labor.

"The sooner it (the postponed tour) is revived under auspices congenial to American labor the better," Mr. Shaw wrote.

The Glasgow newspaper Wednesday demanded the British government bring the abdicated monarch and his American-born duchess back to England before "Prince Charming has to become a wandering Jew."

Turney Valley Output Higher

CALGARY (CP)—Turner Valley set a new oil production record in October, despite the fact wells were pro-rated to 65 per cent of their potential output, figures released by the department of lands and mines revealed today.

Steels Rally Late To Bolster Prices On Wall St. Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Buying in steels touched off a last-minute rally in today's stock market.

The belated recovery reduced early losses running to more than 2 points and put many leaders, including a number of "blue chips" up 1 to 5 points. For a brief space the ticker tape fell behind floor transactions. The pace slowed at the finish.

While the stimulating qualities marketwise, brokers said speculative forces stepped in during the final hour on the theory a rebound was in the cards because of the recent lengthy setback.

Steels were buoyed by the appearance of new orders from widely separated lines that have been holding back. Observers also voiced the opinion mill operations may now be around low levels with a probably upturn in the next month. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

NORANDA AND NICKEL CLIMB

MONTREAL (CP)—Interlisted leaders edged forward in Thursday's stock market but others found the going slippery.

Nickel climbed about a point to around 42½, while Noranda strengthened a bit to 48. Smelters lost a little ground at 52.

Price advanced a little but Bathurst and St. Lawrence Corp. sold off narrowly. C.P.R. again was firm, advancing ⅛ to 8½.

Narrow declines came out for Brazilian, Montreal Power, Dominion Bridge and Canada Cement. Unchanged to slightly better were General Steel Wares, Dominion Steel "B", Foundation Company and Steel of Canada.

COMPANY REPORTS

TORONTO — Eldorado Gold Mines Limited has received the December 1 instalment covering an underwriting of 23,000 shares of treasury stock at $2.40 a share, the Toronto Stock Exchange has been advised.

METALS GAIN AT TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—Held down by moderate profit-taking in the mid-day operations Thursday, prices on Toronto Exchange closed irregularly higher.

Dome advance 2¼ to 50¼. Nickel gained 1½ to 43, western oils had profit-taking to contend with and they were barely firm throughout the session.

Lake Shore dropped a small fraction. Prices were higher for Noranda, Coast Copper, Hudson Bay and Pend Oreille and narrow losses appeared for Waite-Amulet, Ventures and Sherritt.

Losses of a few cents were marked up for A. P. Consolidated, Brown, Calgary-Edmonton, Dalhousie, Okalta and Highwood. Anglo-Canadian, Lowery, Davies and South Eend Petroleum closed higher. Royalite lost a point or two.

Imperial, British-American, International Petroleum and the McColl issues displayed more strength than weakness.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Firmness in outside wheat markets and continued pessimistic reports from the Argentine accounted largely for higher wheat futures on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Final quotations were 2¾ to 2⅞ higher, December at $1.17, May $1.13⅝ and July $1.08⅝ to $1.08¾.

Canadian wheat export business overnight was placed at 250,000 bushels, worked chiefly from the Pacific Coast and made up mostly of No. 3 grade.

Firm trend of wheat markets followed unexpected large-scale German demand for North American wheat yesterday. Grain reports indicated Germany would need further quantities.

A Reuter's dispatch stated France probably would be in the market for 24,000,000 bushels of wheat in the near future.

Liverpool recovered early losses and closed ⅞ to ⅛d higher. Buenos Aires near the close was ¼ higher to ⅜ lower.

Good demand was reported for Nos. 1 and 2 northern cash wheat grades. Light offerings and higher wheat prices influenced coarse grain dealings.

CHICAGO (AP) — Stimulated by reports of increasingly severe crop damage in Argentina, Chicago wheat prices rose nearly 2 cents a bushel today.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures influenced by profit-taking were unchanged to 1⅝ higher, December 94 to 94⅛, May 92½ to 92⅝, corn unchanged to ⅞ up, December 52⅞ to 53, May 56 to 56⅞ and oats ⅞ to ⅛ advanced.

FRENCH ENVOY STARTS TOUR

Reassurance For Middle Europe Object of Visits By Foreign Minister Delbos

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Delbos turned toward Warsaw today for first stop on an extensive tour of middle Europe after reportedly receiving assurance Great Britain and France will not give Chancellor Hitler a free hand in middle Europe.

M. Delbos's 17-day tour will include the capitals of Poland, Roumania, Jugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

Informed sources in Paris viewed the trip as a definite sequel to this week's French-British talks in London and the November 19 conference between Lord Halifax and Chancellor Hitler.

M. Delbos hopes to gain a new promise from Poland and the Little Entente — Czechoslovakia, Roumania and Jugoslavia—that they will keep their alliances with France.

At the same time he will seek to quiet fears Great Britain and France might be ready to abandon central Europe to Germany's ambitions in return for a full settlement in western Europe.

RUSSIA FREES 44 GERMANS

Prisoners Released in Exchange For Crews of Two Soviet Ships

MOSCOW (AP) — Forty-four German prisoners were reported today to have been deported from Russia in a virtual exchange for crews of two Soviet ships recently released in Spain.

The exchange involved crews of the Komsomol, sunk by Spanish insurgents, and the Smidovich, seized in Spanish waters.

Diplomatic sources said that because 500 Germans still are under arrest, the German embassy was not satisfied by the single exchange.

Diplomatic sources said that in the drive which was started after Joseph Stalin's anti-spy speech last March, more than 100 Austrians, about 70 Czechs and hundreds of Italians, Greeks, Chinese and Poles had been arrested. Many foreigners departed at the request of the secret police.

From Paris to Switzerland

BASEL, Switzerland—"This morning I boarded a railroad train, and at 14.30 o'clock (a European way of saying 2.30 p.m.) I reached Basel, just across the Swiss border.

Riding through France, I thought back over the eight days I had spent in Paris. The French capital city seems a more pleasing place to visit than in the early years after the World War. The people seem less strained and worried, and the taxicab drivers are a little more polite.

The Spalen gate of Basel.

Speaking of taxicab drivers, I had an amusing little experience a few evenings ago. I asked a taxicab driver, "Do you speak English?"

"Yes, a little," he replied. Then after a short pause, he added, "I ought to speak it. I was born in England, and lived there 30 years before I came to Paris."

In 1923, and again in 1928, I found Paris a very noisy place. Thousands of motorists seemed to believe they could not drive well without honking their horns 5 or 10 times between the beginning and the end of each block. Now there is not nearly so much honking. In western France I saw many villages from my train window. In some cases, every house in a village had a red roof.

I am glad to be in Switzerland again. This little country has healthy, friendly people. The Swiss keep their homes clean, and are careful about handling food and preparing it for the table.

Basel is built on both sides of the Rhine River, and is in a corner of Switzerland which touches Germany as well as France.

Basel traces its history back to Roman times. During the Middle Ages there was a wall around the city. This wall has been torn down, but a few of the olden "gates" still stand.

Not far from Basel is the place where 1,300 Swiss soldiers fought against 25,000 French soldiers close to 500 years ago. Almost all the Swiss were killed or wounded, but the French losses were so heavy that the invasion of Switzerland was given up.

Switzerland has seldom taken part in war during recent centuries. This is probably the main reason the people are so fine and strong. Switzerland contains people who speak German, French and Italian, and they live at peace with one another.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have had the luck—for it is the greatest good fortune that can come to any child—to be reared in a happy home in which there was complete understanding, helpfulness and love on the part of my mother and father for each other and for us youngsters. We have worked together and played together, and our motto has been: "We are one family and we stand together in everything." When any of us children — we are all grown up now — are sick or discouraged, Mother and Dad are always there to buck us up, and in all times of trouble we lend a helping hand to each other. It seems to me that my mother has made such a good job of motherhood that I would like to give her rules for rearing children. Here they are:

First. Respect your children and their rights. Children have an elemental sense of justice and do not resent discipline as long as they feel that they are getting fair play.

Second. Don't talk down to your children, no matter what age they may be. Even babies resent being talked down to.

Third. If you want something done, choose the right time and then ask, don't demand, that it be done. It pays to be diplomatic with children.

Fourth. Don't ridicule your children even in fun, particularly in front of their friends. A child doesn't enjoy being caricatured any more than you would.

Fifth. Don't pose as an oracle and pretend to know everything. Your children will respect you a great deal more if you admit your ignorance and apologize when you are in the wrong.

Sixth. Develop a sense of humor. Laugh many things off instead of making a tragedy of them. You can break a child of a bad habit by ridiculing it when you couldn't do it by persuasion or punishment.

Seventh. Don't bring up past unpleasantness. If a child does wrong, deal with him at the moment and then forget it. None of us like having our errors continually thrown in our teeth.

Eighth. Trust your children and give them credit for at least a little intelligence. Don't try to do their thinking for them. Make them use their minds and stand on their own feet. The worst thing you can do for a child is to baby it.

Ninth. Remember that experience is a wonderful teacher. We learn through our mistakes.

Tenth. Never avoid the issue. Settle every problem that comes up to the best of your ability on the spot, and explain to the child why you decide as you do, and let your decision be final. When you say "yes" and "no," stick to them.

Eleventh. Give children love and companionship. Make friends of them and encourage them to talk freely to you, but don't try to monopolize them. Let them have plenty of outside associations. Children learn more from each other than they do from grown-ups.

Twelfth. When a child has done a thing well, praise him for it. The desire for approbation is the beginning of ambition. If a child fails, don't nag him for it, but show him where he made his mistakes. And, above all, make him feel that you expect him to do better. These are my mother's rules for rearing children and I hope that they may be as helpful to other youngsters as they were to us.

M. S. J.

Answer—I hope so, too, and I pass on these words of wisdom that they may be a lamp to guide many other mothers wrestling with the problem of how to rear their girls and boys into fine women and men.

DOROTHY DIX.

New Zealand May Delay New Liners

Canadian-Australasian Line Plans Complicated By Labor Demands

LONDON (CP)—Hector Bywater, writing in The Daily Telegraph, today said construction of two "luxury" liners for the Canadian-Australasian service, approved at the Imperial Conference this summer, was in danger of being held up indefinitely by a complication raised by New Zealand.

He declared the New Zealand government was endeavoring to have one of the ships registered in that Dominion to bring the liner under its own rules in regard to conditions of labor and pay, which the New Zealand Labor government claims are the best in the world.

Mr. Bywater, the paper's naval correspondent, said the proposal was opposed by Canada, Australia and the United Kingdom on the grounds it would create administrative difficulties.

Meanwhile, the writer added, shipbuilding costs are mounting steadily and it is doubtful that the ship could now be built for the original estimate of £1,500,000 ($7,483,125) each.

Advertising To Lure Tourists

Campaign Planned to Bring People to Pacific Coast Next Year

REALIGNMENT OF SERVICES

U.S. Port Authorities to Discuss Reorganization of Lines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the United States Maritime Commission invited authorities of 27 port cities to a conference on possible reorganization of American steamship services to foreign lands.

No date for the discussion was set pending response to the invitation.

Kennedy wrote the port authorities the commission desired to achieve "the most efficient operation" of America's essential trade routes and this may necessitate "realignments of existing steamship services, although this is now mentioned as a possibility and not yet a certainty."

The possible realignment would involve shifting of services among and within steamship lines, such as the abolishing of certain trips or stops and the establishment or rearrangment of others.

SPENCERS IN FINE WIN OVER SAILORS

BAYS ARE VICTORS

At Beacon Hill Park, Hudson's Bay managed to pull out with the verdict after a close encounter with the George Hotel. All the scoring took place in the second half.

Kicking up the slope in the first session the hotelmen played better ball than they did in the closing half, but due to hard luck were unable to find the net. The Bays were also unsuccessful in their goal-getting attempts, Goalie Saddler thwarting all forays on his goal. The Bays had quite a few scoring chances.

After the resumption of play the department store eleven perked up and began to play better ball and not many minutes of the session had passed before Les Kennedy, centre-half, found the net with a fine shot. He got the cross from McDonald, right winger.

Gorge Hotel were presented with a number of opportunities to score but made the mistake of trying to walk the leather in between the posts instead of shooting. The Bays always swung play around again and had an edge in the exchanges. Fogden scored on Speller's cross late in the game to make it 2 to 0 for the Bays. Len Fieldhouse first-timed into the hemp in the dying minutes to save the hotel squad from a shutout.

Dave McMillan refereed.

The teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Renfrew, Wyatt, Preston, Williamson, Kennedy, Oakman, L. Gelling, McDonald, Fogden, M. McBride and Speller.

Gorge Hotel—C. Sadler, White, Geoghegan, W. Sadler, Fieldhouse, D. White, F. Stokes, D. Gent, Carr, Belford and K. Gent.

OPEN VERDICT

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning, and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane or Vancouver Drug Co. Stores, or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.
